OHIO PRIMARY MAY FURNISH NEXT U. S. HEAD

If Pomerene Is Nominated and Elected He May Be Candidate for President

POPULAR WITH WETS

Should Senator Win Race He Will Stand Big Chance for Democratic Nomination

Washington—Ohio's primary Tuesday is of real importance to the Democratic party and possibly to the Republicans. It may furnish a presidential candidate. For if former Senator Atlee Pomerene is nominated, he will give Senator Willis, Republican, a close fight. Should he be victorious in the election, the Ohio and middle western democracy will be strong for Mr. Pomerene at the next national convention.

Mr. Pomerene is regarded by Republicans as well as Democrats as a strong vote-getter. He has strength among the Republican businessmen in Ohio and as well as the wets because of his outspoken stand against dictation either by labor unions or the anti-Saigon League in shaping his course while in the United States senate.

Mr. Pomerene was appointed special counsel by President Coolidge to prosecute the Teapot Dome oil cases in the federal courts. He was always looked upon as one of the strongest of the Democratic senators. The reports reaching here are to the effect that he had no wish to enter the primaries to seek the nomination and that he has done little campaigning. Those who induced him to enter the race urged it on the ground that an election would mean his certain consideration for the presidency in 1928.

WETS AGAINST WILLIS
In Ohio the elements are anxious to defeat Senator Willis. The Democrats have in recent years been in almost continuous control of the state government. In fact since 1906, the Republicans have carried the state only twice for governor. The same state voted Democratic for president not only in 1912, when the Bull Moose party was splitting the Republican vote, but in 1916 when the Republican party was united and when Indiana on the one side and practically every state east of Mississippi cast its electoral votes for Mr. Hughes.

Mr. Willis is somewhat on the defensive in his race for the senate because of the charges made before the senate investigating committee that he received fees for speaking in favor of prohibition. The "wets" have made the most of this. Also they have a well defined feeling that if the wet issue were injected in Ohio at this time there would be evidence of a change of sentiment, as this state has always been nip-and-tuck between the wets and dries in state elections.

SUPPORTS COOLIDGE

Mr. Willis has always been a staunch supporter of President Coolidge and will receive the full measure of the administration's support. The cry will be raised that the loss of any Republican seats in the senate will embarrass Mr. Coolidge in the second half of his present term.

Under the circumstances if Mr. Pomerene were to win out, he would be a difficult man to defeat for the Democratic nomination in 1928. It is interesting to note that William G. McAdoo came out in favor of Judge Florence Allen, who has been Mr. Pomerene's rival for the Democratic nomination. This may or may not be a factor later on in determining the line-up of the different groups of Democrats in Ohio. Mr. Pomerene fought Mr. McAdoo and his lieutenants in the state, so the endorsement by Mr. McAdoo of Mr. Pomerene's opponent was considered somewhat in the nature of retaliation. For these reasons the Ohio senatorial contest may take rank with the race in Massachusetts and New York from the viewpoint of presidential politics.

Milwaukee—(AP)—Federal prohibition agents raided a scotch whiskey "cutting" plant. Thirteen quarts of a familiar brand of Scotch were found in bottles. Eighteen gallons of alcohol were also found.

BORAH SCORES PARIS LETTER ON WAR DEBT

Clemenceau Appeal Approaches Absurd in Misleading Insinuations

Boise, Idaho—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho chairman of the foreign affairs committee has prepared a statement in response to inquiries regarding his opinion of the open letter from Georges Clemenceau, war time premier of France, to President Coolidge.

The letter, issued Sunday in Paris, contained an appeal not to treat the settlement of the French debt as a commercial matter. Clemenceau declared the proposed Berenger-Mellon debt agreement to be "impossible of fulfillment" and that it threatened the independence of France.

In his statement Senator Borah said: "Clemenceau's letter is so cruelly misleading as in its intimation that we are undermining the independence of France and so deliberately unjust where he refers to waiting for America to enter the war and where he criticizes the United States for making a separate treaty of peace with Germany, and yet so pathetic in its manifest love to his country, that I prefer not to comment at length."

INSINUATIONS ABSURD
"He is one whose unfounded wrath we can afford to ignore and whose malicious insinuations we can afford to pass by. It would seem that if they have anything to say of a people whom they once hailed as their unselfish deliverers, they would at least speak the language of truth and graciousness. To state that we are trying to undermine the independence of France, or that somebody wants to buy France, approaches the absurd. If they want to cancel their debts let them include all debts and all reparations and show that benefit of the cancellation will go to humanity and to betterment of the masses of Europe and not to the benefit of the imperialistic schemes which are now crushing the life out of people who were in no sense responsible for this war."

"This constant charge of injustice and usury on the part of the United States is simply not only unfounded in fact but dishonest in purpose."

BANDITS FLEE WITH $20,000 FROM BANK

Woodmere, N. Y.—(AP)—Three robbers entered the Hewlett Woodmere National bank early Wednesday and escaped with $20,000 according to police reports. The men fled in an automobile.

GUNMAN FROM NEW YORK IS LAST VICTIM

Police Attribute Murder to Revenge for Cold
Blooded Slayings

Chicago—(AP)—Louis (Big) Smith known as a gunman imported from New York two years ago as the bodyguard of a Chicago bootleg chieftain was killed Tuesday night when gangster shots for the second time in a day threw a business district into uproar.

The forty second death since January attributed to gang warfare was the work of a lone gunman who accomplished his purpose where a handful of his fellows had failed in their earlier in the day in a running pistol fight before Michigan Boulevard's smart shops.

Smith was dropped on a south side street by four bullets fired by a man who drove up in an automobile equipped with his weapon and sped away. Police regarded the slaying as revenge for one of two murders with which the gangsters' name had been linked and for one of which he was under indictment. On his death bed, Isaac Stein, "Alky" chief, named Smith his assassin and Smith was one of the first men arrested after the recent killings of Jules Portoguese bootlegger, gem thief and underworld rival of Steins.

OUTCAST IN GANGDOM
Smith, detectives said, was virtually an outcast in gangdom because of his cold blooded methods.

In the attack on Vincent Drucci which jammed the flow of traffic on the "Bowl" Mich' and sent pedestrians scurrying to the shelter of doorways, the authorities saw a revived effort of ruling liquor trade gangs to wipe out the thinning clan of Dion O'Bannon, himself shot to death two years ago.

Drucci was known as the Irish gang lord's right hand man and from the nature of the shooting police took it to be a planned assassination rather than a robbery attempt. The gangster said his assailants were after $15,000 cash he had on his person.

The one unperturbed witness was a Wyoming cowboy, here for the rodeo who called it "the best shooting tournament since I left home" although regretful of the absence of his own "hard ware."

8 PERSONS HURT IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Milwaukee—(AP)—Charles Sykorski, 81 years old and Mrs. Clara Faulk, 45, are suffering from serious head injuries and six other persons are less seriously hurt as the result of an automobile collision late Tuesday.

MARY BROWN REACHES SEMI IN YORK MEET

Rye, N. Y.—(AP)—Mary K. Browne of Santa Monica, Calif., Wednesday advanced to the semi-finals of the New York state women's tennis championships by defeating Mrs. E. V. Roesser, New York 6-1, 6-0.

HURT IN SEA BATTLE

Captain Bob Pantz and Leona Gunway, cook of the British rum runner, Hazel E. Horner were brought to St. Augustine hospital Monday critically wounded as a result of a battle at sea. The two men say they were attacked by hijackers and in the resultant exchange of shots two men in the attacking party were killed.

Five additional coast guard vessels left their bases in Miami and Key West Monday night to patrol the vicinity of the battle and prevent a recurrence of clashes.

White coast guardsmen took steps to prevent further trouble boatswain T. L. Cokely commander of coast guard boat No. 202 who Monday left his craft in the harbor at Fernandina in a navy seaplane piloted by Captain George Gay still was missing Wednesday.

Residents of Jacksonville beach reported having witnessed a three cornered battle between three vessels and a seaplane a short distance off shore Tuesday.

Referee Reynolds said at the conclusion of the morning session that additional witnesses probably would be called but that there was no indication as to how long the investigation would continue.

Except for the statement that some of the witnesses were questioned no information was available on the progress of the inquiry Wednesday morning or the number questioned. Mr. Reynolds said the sessions would be resumed Wednesday afternoon and Thursday.

Ma Ferguson Announces She Will Seek Nomination As Governor Of Texas

IOWA SENATOR

David W. Stewart, Sioux City (Ia.) attorney, was nominated by Iowa Republicans to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Albert B. Cummins. His nomination marked a victory for "regular" Republicans over Smith W. Brookhart, who beat Cummins in the last primary.

FLORIDA ROWS WITH OUTLAWS COST 5 LIVES

Officials Wage War Against Rum Runners, Hijackers
and Bootleggers

Jacksonville, Fla.—(AP)—Three known dead two reported killed, two men critically wounded and one man reported missing was the toll from two encounters between rum runners, hijackers, bootleggers, coast guardsmen and federal agents in Florida in the past five days.

Three alleged violators of the liquor laws were killed in a pitched battle with several federal prohibition agents on a lonely Everglades road near Homestead when they pursued and opened fire on the government agents, who were returning to Miami after a series of raids on hidden stills in the everglades.

Two of the men killed were former police officers of Homestead recently removed from office.

HURT IN SEA BATTLE

Captain Bob Pantz and Leona Gunway, cook of the British rum runner, Hazel E. Horner were brought to St. Augustine hospital Monday critically wounded as a result of a battle at sea. It was indicated unofficially that some of the witnesses questioned Wednesday morning were instructed to appear again before the investigation, while others were dismissed.

Makes Ku Klux Klan Principal Issue Against Her Opponent Moody

Austin, Texas—(AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson Tuesday declared she was in the race for Governor of Texas "with all her heart." In a 2,000 word statement she declared that Attorney General Dan Moody, her chief opponent had never accepted her offer to resign.

She declared Moody had forfeited his right to place on the run-off and general election tickets because of his alleged acceptance of contributions from candidates for the legislature. The primary law prohibits campaign contributions from one candidate to another candidate.

Referring to her challenge to Moody to resign, she said "not only did he not accept my proposition but he left himself in a position where he would not be bound in case I should have led him by 25,000 votes in the primary. Here are his very words:

"I accept the challenge issued by Jim in his wife's name." In many other statements in the newspapers he called my proposition "Jim's bluff" and not to this good hour has he ever said he accepted my proposition."

The governor's statement which has been awaited since the Democratic state executive committee last Monday certified her name with that of Moody's for the primary run-off, presages a heated two weeks campaign for the Democratic nomination which in Texas means election. No official statement as to her plans had been made by Governor Ferguson since her announcement two days after the July 12 primary in which she said she would not be a candidate in the run off.

Mrs. Ferguson makes the Ku Klux Klan her principal issue declaring that the Klan is celebrating Moody's large vote in the first primary as "a Klan victory."

Mrs. Ferguson declares that her duty to her state "is greater than my personal preference for private life at this time."

AUTOMOBILES, BUSES
OUST INTERURBAN LINE

Madison—(AP)—Popularity of motorbus and automobile travel caused abandonment of an interurban line when the State Railroad commission Wednesday authorized the Northern States Power Co., to discontinue its line between Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls. The commission found that the line had suffered an operation loss for the past five years due to growth of motorbus and private automobile traffic.

The Fairchild and Northeastern railway Co. was authorized in an intercity order to suspend operation of its train service between Greenwood and Owen, and between Fairchild and Cleghorn for 30 days, pending negotiations for sale of the line. A final order will be entered at the expiration of that period.

PARACHUTE FAILS TO OPEN, FLIER KILLED

Dayton, O.—(AP)—Lieutenant E. H. Barksdale, McCook field pilot was killed Wednesday when his parachute failed to open when he jumped from his falling ship near the field.

Lieutenant Barksdale's jump was made from a height of about 500 feet and it is believed the distance did not give his parachute time to open. On two previous occasions he made successful parachute jumps from disabled ships.

The ship was wrecked.

Enough Is Enough
When we asked Mrs. Geo. Eberhardt, 212 Meade street, how many replies she received to the Post-Crescent classified ad in which she offered a room for rent, she said—

"Enough!"

That was saying enough to show that her room is no longer vacant, that Appleton people follow Post-Crescent ads like prosperity follows success, and that Post-Crescent ads give satisfaction.

There seems to be something failure-proof about these Post-Crescent classified ads which everybody thinks of as soon as wants or offers come to mind.

GOVERNMENT ASKS BIDS FOR MADISON BUILDING

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Madison and Syracuse and Yonkers, N. Y., are among the cities for which bids for new public buildings will be asked by the government in putting in operation the new construction program authorized by Congress. About 45 cities will be included in the first year's program which will start late this month.

SEEK TO NAME CHICAGO PARK FOR LATE "BOB"

Chicago—(AP)—A proposal to name a west side Chicago park for the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin was carried to the Park board Wednesday by a group of Chicagoans active in the senator's presidential campaign in 1924.

The park which sponsors are named for the Wisconsin senator is a new 20 acre tract. Professor A. E. Hayden of the University of Chicago, who preached the La Follette funeral sermon; President John Fitzpatrick of the Chicago Federation of Labor; Donald Richberg, who served the senator as counsel and Charles J. MacGowan state La Follette chairman two years ago and chairman of the La Follette memorial legion, led the delegation.

MEDALIST LOSES IN JUNIOR MEET

Dunlap Eliminates Tveraa of Minneapolis; Kenosha Boy
Wins 1st Match

Chicago—(AP)—Art Tveraa of Minneapolis, medalist with a 73 in the qualifying round Tuesday was eliminated Wednesday from the Western Junior Golf tournament by Gibson Dunlap of Chicago 3 and 2.

Tveraa's defeat was a remarkable upset after his medal play Tuesday.

Dunlap won the first hole Wednesday and was never down to his opponent. Tveraa ran true to form on his long putts but Dunlap matched his work on almost every green and had a slight advantage on the drives.

Dunlap, a member of the Maywood club, is only 17 years old, a year younger than his opponent.

Thomas Cooley, Kankakee, Ill., won from G. Sederquist, Rockford, Ill., 3 and 2.

John Verbois, Kenosha, sent Stephen Williams of Chicago to the consolation play with a par four at the nineteenth hole. Theirs was the second match in the first round to go an extra hole.

The second round of play at eighteen holes started shortly after noon.

Second round pairings involving outside players include: Thomas Cooley, Kankakee vs. Gibson Dunlap, Chicago; John Verbois, Kenosha vs. Sam Albert, Chicago; Jack Lanphier, Springfield vs. J. R. Lanfesty, Chicago; Alex Carrick, Toronto vs. Robert Baldwin, Bloomington, Ill.; William Mason, La Salle, Ill., vs. Lawrence Moller, Quincy, Ill.

All other survivors are Chicagoans.

59 PLAYERS ENTER
WOMEN'S NET MEET

New York—(AP)—A field of 59 players, with the national champion, Helen Hills and her foremost rival, Elizabeth Ryan "seeded" in opposite halves was drawn Wednesday for play next week in the National Women's Tennis championship at Forest Hills.

STOCK PRICES TAKE REACTIONARY TURN

New York—(AP)—Stock prices turned reactionary in the final hour of trading Wednesday after an early period of strength. Bear traders, following the tactics which proved successful Tuesday launched a late selling attack against pivotal industrial issues such as United States Steel, General Motors, and Dupont all of which were driven several points below last night's closing prices.

MINNESOTA MAN WINS LOG BIRLING CONTEST

Washington—(AP)—Gilbert Thompson Clouet, Minn., Wednesday won the northwestern log birling championship, and remained the only contestant in the world's championship meet who has not taken a wetting.

Hundreds of people flocked into Appleton from every part of the county early Wednesday morning to take advantage of the choice bargains offered by merchants, the first of the two cooperative Dollar Day sales were taxed to their utmost to care for the customers that filled the stores.

Every type of business in Appleton has joined the group of cooperative dealers sponsoring the Dollar Day sales. The sale was sponsored by the retail division of the chamber of commerce. Merchants had prepared for the sale by repricing and rearranging their stocks and the counters and shelves of nearly every store in Appleton were filled with bargains.

Besides the special values which a dollar would buy, most merchants had reduced prices on other stock. The sale will last through Thursday and many more people are expected to crowd the stores that day to take advantage of bargains that probably will not be offered for another year.

Expect Renomination of Donahy for Governor on Democratic Ticket

Chicago—(AP)—The battle of ballots waged Wednesday in the states of Ohio, Alabama, Arkansas and Nebraska, the aftermath of Tuesday's primary elections.

From columns of mounting figures tabulators sought to name the nominees for offices ranging from United States senators and governors down to county officials.

In Ohio where many of the national leaders of the past first jumped into the political arena, the battle waged fiercely.

Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati business man and organization candidate, for the Republican nomination for governor Wednesday assumed a lead of approximately 16,000 votes over Thad H. Brown secretary of state, his closest opponent.

"This lead was based on returns from 6,854 of the approximately 8,600 precincts in the state, tabulated by the Associated Press.

None of the other candidates was within striking distance of the leaders.

DONAHY IN LEAD
Foregone conclusions that Governor Donahy would be renominated on the Democratic ticket with a preponderant plurality proved to be well founded. The governor, with returns received from 6,751 precincts was leading A. P. Sandles, his nearest opponent almost eight to one.

Chances of Ohio being the first state to be represented in the United States senate by a woman appeared to have been dissipated. Florence E. Allen state supreme court justice and candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator in a statement issued Wednesday conceded the nomination of former Senator Atlee Pomerene.

On the Republican ticket, Senator Frank B. Willis piled up a plurality, which approached four to one over his nearest competitor for the senatorial nomination, Q. Eldersbrant of Wilmington, with Klan endorsement, was second and former Senator Charles Dick of Akron, a poor third.

Repudiation of the national Ku Klux Klan organization by the Alabama organization was seen by some political observers in Alabama's Democratic primary.

KLAN ENTERS RACE
Hugo L. Black, candidate for the United States senate endorsed by the Alabama Klan was leading a field of five including L. B. Musgrove backed by the national organization.

In the gubernatorial race Bibb Graves, who a few days ago charged that large Alabama newspapers were fighting him to "hogtie the Alabama delegation" in the 1928 national Democratic convention to give the state's vote to Governor A. L. Smith was leading a field of four.

Large urban centers gave John E. Martineau, judge of Pulaski chancery court a fairly substantial lead over Governor Tom J. Terral, in Arkansas' Democratic gubernatorial fight.

In the congressional battles, the incumbents representatives John N. Tillman and Heartill Ragon were leading their opponents. Senator T. H. Caraway was nominated without opposition. Nebraska Republicans nominated Governor Adam McCollum to succeed himself. His two opponents Fred G. Johnson, Hastings former attorney general and Robert Ross, Lexington farmer, lagged far behind. Charles Bryan former governor and Democratic vice presidential candidate in 1924, was unopposed for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination as were Osmond F. Bryan Pender, Attorney LaFollette-Independent candidate and Roy M. Harrop, Omaha Progressive.

PERMIT BADGER MILL TO OPERATE 2 DAMS

Madison—(AP)—Permission has been granted the Northern Paper mills by the state railroad commission to build and operate two dams on the Wisconsin River in Marinette, about 12 miles from Amberg. The commission found that the dam site is located partly in Wisconsin and partly in Michigan. One half of the waterpower is subject to reapture by the state at a value of $30,000. The dams will be capable of developing 10,000 horse power.

EXPECT LARGE CROWD TO GREET LENROOT TONIGHT

Senior Senator Will Give Only Campaign Talk in County at Appleton

Senator Irvine L. Lenroot, senior Wisconsin senator, will deliver his only campaign address in the county at the city park here Wednesday night. Amplifiers have been installed to make certain that the speech may be heard by all who attend. In the event of rain, the meeting will be held at Lawrence Memorial chapel. It is expected that the speaker will be introduced by J. D. Steele, chairman of the Outagamie-co Republican committee.

Proof of the senator's growing popularity is made evident by the fact that numerous former supporters of the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Sr., are now throwing their support to Senator Lenroot. Among these is Theodore P. Boretti, Hurley circuit court commissioner of Iron-co, and one of the leading Italian citizens of upper Wisconsin, who cut away from Governor Blaine to support the candidacy of Senator Lenroot.

Mr. Boretti was secretary of the LaFollette Progressive club of Iron-co two years ago and he and his followers were loyal supporters of the LaFollette cause until the present campaign. Mr. Boretti announced that he could no longer support Mr. Blaine and the Madison ring. He recently introduced Mrs. Lenroot Black when the Senator's daughter spoke at Hurley. Mr. Boretti has issued the following statement:

"We realize that down at Madison there is a group of so-called Progressives who want to dictate and impose their will upon the Progressives of this state. We find that it is no longer possible to support the so-called Progressive party without surrendering our sacred political rights. To accept the dictates of this ring any further would make the citizens of this great state nothing more than political slaves. These self-appointed Progressive leaders are not champions of Progressivism as advocated by the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, and what is even more distasteful to us is the fact that Senator LaFollette, Jr., has let himself become allied with these same individuals."

LOAN DIRECTORS ACT ON $20,100 REQUESTS

Consideration of requests for loans amounting to $20,100 will be made at the regular meeting of directors of the Appleton Building and Loan association at 715 Thursday evening at the office of George H. Beckley, secretary in the Lutheran Aid building. Action will be taken on the loans and the report of the association for July will be read. Routine business will occupy the remainder of the meeting.

JULY REPORTS READ AT TRUSTEE MEETING

Reports of new members gained during July, 1926, the amount of new insurance sold, the number of death claims allowed and the amounts of insurance paid out, occupied the time of the trustees of the Aid Association for Lutherans at their monthly meeting held Tuesday. A total of 725 new members and $966,500 in insurance for the month brought the total gain for the first seven months of 1926 to 4,918 new members and $6,387,750 in insurance. July showed a gain of 85 members and $96,500 in insurance over July, 1925. The juvenile department, a new feature of the association's insurance program, showed a gain of 126 members with $34,200 insurance.

APPLETON WOMAN GRANTED DIVORCE

Mrs. Mary Dorsey Alleges That Husband Failed to Support Her

Alleging that her husband, John Dorsey, 314 W. Packard-st., failed to support her and their one child, that he was frequently intoxicated, that he struck her and was guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment toward her, Mrs. Mary Dorsey, 323 W. Oklahoma-ave., was granted a divorce and the custody of their child Tuesday afternoon in municipal court.

Dorsey contested the suit, denying in his answer to the complaint that he was an habitual drunkard, that he struck his wife, or that he failed to support her or their child. The answer alleged that Mrs. Dorsey at times used abusive language in speaking to her husband and that she struck him. In the answer Dorsey stated that he did not desire a divorce.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey were married Aug. 24, 1912, in Menominee, Mich. The court took Mrs. Dorsey's petition for division of property and payment of alimony under advisement.

Misses Florence and Mabel McCarthy and Leonard Jockman and William Fassbender, motored to Mountain, Oconto, Langlade and Oconto Sunday.

MERCHANTS TOLD TO KEEP AWAKE

Merchandise Manager of Pettibone-Peabody Co. Addresses Rotary Club

"Modern business conditions are changing so rapidly that unless the average merchant wakes up and meets these conditions he is doomed to failure," said H. L. Post, merchandise manager of Pettibone-Peabody company in an address to the members of the Rotary club at the weekly meeting Tuesday noon at Hotel Northern. Modern Selling in Relation to Business was the subject of Mr. Post's talk.

"Modern selling means not only selling the merchandise," Mr. Post said, "but it means also meeting the popular demand."

Instead of sitting in his office and kicking about how poor business is, the retailer should study the situation and try to analyze why his business is poor. Public demand is changing although the average manufacturer or retailer does not change with it. The modern way is to follow the demand, Mr. Post said.

"In the future, businesses will have to deal with larger units," he said. "The smaller owners especially will lose out if they don't prepare for this. They must analyze the situation and readjust their business to meet the demands."

VICTIMS OF AIRPLANE CRASH RECOVERING

The condition of George Hannigan, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Hannigan, 218 E. Harris-st., who was badly injured when an airplane in which he was riding crashed to the ground near Quarry last Friday afternoon, was much improved Tuesday, according to the boy's mother, Robert Shepherd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben F. Shepherd, 1900 E. Pacific-st., who was also injured in the crash, returned Wednesday from the Milwaukee hospital where he was confined with Hannigan following the accident.

The driver of the plane, Melvin Thompson of Quarry, sustained a bad cut above the left eye but was able to leave the hospital after receiving medical attention. Thompson lost control of the plane as it struck an air pocket about 20 feet from the ground.

Hannigan suffered two breaks in his left leg. The first was set at the hospital immediately on his arrival there and the second break was to be reduced Wednesday. The youth may be able to return to his home in three weeks.

REDUCE FREIGHT RATES NORTH OF OHIO RIVER

A reduction of freight rates on all classes of goods shipped from north of Ohio river crossing to Appleton and intermediate points will become effective on Sept. 15, according to word received by R. G. Wort, manager of the chamber of commerce traffic bureau. The rates will be the same south of the river until Cincinnati, from where the goods are shipped north. The reduction is approximately 1 1/2 cents per 100 pounds, according to the announcement.

Present rates are $1.33 per 100 pounds for class 1; $1.10 for class 2; 90 cents for class 3; 66 cents for class 4; 48 cents for class 5. The new rates are $1.21 1/2 for class 1; 99 cents for class 2; 73 cents for class 3; 50 1/2 cents for class 4; 33 1/2 cents for class 5. Mr. Wort wrote to the Interstate Commerce Commission for information on a possible reduction.

APPLETON FIRMS DISPLAY GOODS

18 Manufacturing Plants to Have Exhibits at State Fair at Milwaukee

Eighteen Appleton manufacturing firms will exhibit their products at the Wisconsin Products exposition at the state fair, Milwaukee from Aug. 30 to Sept. 4, according to reports made at a meeting of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce Tuesday. Appleton and Outagamie-co were allowed nine booths, and all of these have been reserved by local firms at a total cost of $1,395. A few more booth reservations may be made with the chamber of commerce and it is expected that a number will do so yet. The largest cost to any one local firm exhibiting its wares is $120, according to the report of the committee, which has been working for some time to fill the nine booths.

Appleton firms who will exhibit are the Tuttle Press Co., Fox River Knitting Co., Solding Locks Hatpin Co., Appleton Coated Paper Co., J. J. Plank and Co., Wisconsin Wire Works, retail Publishers, Inc., Thimble Pulp and Paper Co., Kimberly-Clark Co., Fox River Paper Co., Patten Paper Co., Riverside Fibre and Paper Co., Valley Iron Works, Appleton Toy and Furniture Co., Appleton Woolen Mills, Appleton Superior Knitting Co., and Toy Corporation of America.

COUNTRY WOMAN FAST JOINING WOMEN'S CLUBS

Work of Rural Organizations
Is on Same Plane as That Done in City

Madison—(P)—The country woman in Wisconsin is rapidly becoming a club woman, similar to her metropolitan sister. Mrs. Nellie Keadle Jones of the University of Wisconsin extension division said here Wednesday.

The work being done by women in the country and rural towns, Mrs. Jones said, is on the same plane and of the same nature as that being done in the city women's clubs. Leading in country women's clubs is Marathon county which has 37 clubs.

Other counties in the state have similar organizations, but a lesser number. Citing the work done by the clubs in Marathon county, Mrs. Jones told of how one club decided to improve the town hall.

"They raised as much money as they could," she said, "and then the men became interested and offered their financial aid. They painted the hall inside and out, put in a new floor, installed a new stove and lighting system, and improved the grounds. The whole project was done tastily and with good judgment."

"Another club in a small town purchased a small amount of playground equipment and hired a teacher to care for their children for two hours in the morning and two hours in the afternoon during the summer."

"Many of the clubs in Marathon county have installed the hot lunch in their country schools. Others purchased phonographs for their schools, while one or three have installed motion picture machines. They send to the University of Wisconsin for their films and the cost is only $8.00 a year. Another club cleaned and tidied up the two cemeteries in their township."

"Innumerable other community and social projects are being undertaken in this county, one reason being that a county demonstration is being active work there. Similar work is being done on a smaller scale in practically every other county in the state."

"The popular idea has been that country women and city women are as unlike as the Chinese and the Africans. The fact is that the average country women are as keen, intelligent and cultured as the average city women."

"In the country woman's clubs, there is less attention paid to literary matter and more to the solution of practical community problems. Country women's clubs in Wisconsin are rallying themselves more and more with the state and national organizations."

Much Skill Is Required To Catch Trout Just Now

BY E. A. CLAFLIN

We are frequently asked for definite information relative to late summer trout fishing—where to go for the best results, what lures will be found most effective and what accommodations are at the service of the fishermen. It will be borne in mind that late season trout require far more skill to reel than those of the earlier months. Not only is a knowledge of the proper artificial flies necessary, but equally so must the fisherman possess the ability to present them naturally, at the right time and in the right place if he would meet with fair success.

There are many streams in Wisconsin where good catches may yet be made by the skillful angler, but we are not prepared to say how long this possibility will remain to us unless radical steps are soon taken to perpetuate these wonderful fish. The cutting away of our forests and the advent of the automobile are the two principal reasons for the decline of Fontinalis and Irides. Like the deer, brook trout must have natural cover. Remove that and there can be but one result. They are creatures of the wild.

The brown trout, Salmo Farlo, is a different proposition. He is not

TOBACCO SUPPLY LESS THAN PREVIOUS YEAR

Madison—(P)—Manufacturers and dealers had 105,421,350 pounds of Wisconsin-leaf tobacco on hand on July 1, or nearly 5,000,000 pounds less than a year ago, the department of commerce reports at Washington.

The amount of Wisconsin cigar type leaf tobacco held by manufacturers and dealers on July 1, 1925, was 110,344,055 pounds. At the beginning of 1926 it was 32,855,014 pounds and on April 1, it was 114,828,439 pounds. The aggregate amount of leaf tobacco of all kinds held by manufacturers and dealers on July 1 was 1,368,295,582 pounds, as compared with 1,847,224,526 a year ago.

"Have spent a fortune in doctoring. Twelve years ago I became afflicted with stomach trouble which steadily became worse. I frequently became prostrated with colic attacks and bloating. My doctors wanted to operate for gall stones. I wished to avoid an operation and on advice of a friend tried MAYR'S with excellent results as since taking it about 2 years ago my trouble has entirely disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists.

QUESTIONS: How can or does Pressure upon a nerve produce Disease?

ANSWER: We know that the action of every part of the body depends upon the stimulation which it receives from the brain and nerve centers. Pressure upon the nerve blocks the condition or carrying of these impulses or messages along the nerve, and when the parts for which these impulses are intended do not receive them, they fail to perform their work and disease is the result.

QUESTIONS: My neighbor's children have whooping cough, and I am afraid my children will "catch" it from them. What is your advice?

ANSWER: Germs seek their natural habitat—diseased tissue—rather than being the cause of the diseased tissue; e. g., mosquitoes seek the stagnant water, but do not cause the pool to become stagnant. Nature's laws are immutable laws and act the same on objects we cannot see as on those which we can see. If the germ theory were founded on facts, there would be no living being to read what's written.

However my advice is that you consult a competent chiropractor for your children and he will correct the cause of low resistance in their bodies. Pasteur said: "In a state of health, the body is closed against the action of germ diseases."

DRY PARTY TO HOLD MEETING NEAR WAUPACA

State and National Leaders
Will Gather at Camp Cleghorn
Aug. 17

Madison—(P)—State and national leaders of the prohibition party will describe plans for the party's future at a rally of Wisconsin members at Camp Cleghorn, near Waupaca, on Aug. 17.

The principal speaker at the conference will be D. Leigh Colvin, national chairman of the party. Other speakers on the program include Oliver Needham, state chairman; A. B. Bucknam, candidate for the gubernatorial nomination; Ella Sanford Tenney, another candidate; Alfred D. Taynton, editor of Political Action, a prohibition paper published here, and A. B. Bonsib, of Indiana.

A formal campaign will be inaugurated by the prohibitionists in Wisconsin after the September primaries, says the current issue of Political Action.

Chairman Colvin is scheduled to make a speaking tour, with the following itinerary: Aug. 19, Fond du Lac; August 20, Sparta; August 21, villages in La Crosse county, and the city of La Crosse.

C. H. Marshall and W. C. Pickering are candidates for the nomination for congress in the eighth and ninth districts, respectively. If three voters from each of the four counties will write in their names they will be nominated, the paper says.

La Crosse-co will have a complete prohibition ticket, composed of D. C. Chappel and Mr. Needham for assemblyman; A. L. Marshall, clerk; B. 2.

Size and "Soul"

"The 'big business' corporations of this country never made a better move than when they concluded to make it easy for their employees to become part owners in the business in which they are employed. Among such corporations the Standard Oil Company of Indiana is conspicuous."

"There is hardly an informed man in business of any kind who does not wish it were within his power to do as much for his employees as the Standard Oil Company of Indiana has done and is doing for its employees."

These paragraphs are quoted from an editorial appearing in the Atlantic News Telegraph of Atlantic, Iowa, June 8, 1926.

They indicate the trend of public opinion in regard to "big business" in general, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in particular.

The old feeling that large corporations are necessarily "soulless" because of their size has practically disappeared.

Greater information results in a better understanding, and this has been true, particularly in the case of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

A number of years ago this Company adopted the policy of openly and frankly discussing its problems, and publishing facts concerning its work and its organization.

Open and straightforward statements of how the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) carries on its vast business, have brought about a truer public understanding of its work, a greater appreciation of the benefits of its operation, and a realization of the true significance of its great size.

It is not "soulless" because it is big. Rather, because it is big, in every sense of the word, it has soul.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is big not alone in numbers, in wealth of resources, in the extent of its activities. These are but the outward signs of its deep inner bigness of purpose and principle, of its high ideals and far-reaching vision.

The attitude of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) towards its employees, praised in the editorial above, is but one expression of the broad working principles of the Company.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a big business. It does things in a big way. Yet its achievement is big only in proportion to the bigness of the purpose that inspires it, and the bigness of the service it renders to the thirty million people of ten Middle West states.

WOMEN STUDENTS TO

Madison—(P)—Women students at the University of Wisconsin are preparing to guide the annual group of freshmen through the maze of the first year.

The junior advisory council of the Women's Self-Government association is assigning members of the association to act as advisors for freshmen

Johnson, treasurer; Bert S. Steadwell, sheriff; J. Spangler, register of deeds; H. G. Wiley, clerk of court; Ernest Farnam, coronor; and Harry Wiley, surveyor. Harry Wiley was elected surveyor on the prohibition ticket a few years ago, according to the paper.

The Walworth-co ticket announced as follows: Helen M. Tubbs, assembly; Alfred G. Olson, sheriff; Albert F. Ford, clerk; Walter Curtis, clerk of court, and O. H. Allen, coronor.

The prohibitionists profess to have found a way in which to nominate candidates in the primary by writing names on the ballots. Regarding the failure of the candidates for congress to file sufficient nomination papers with the secretary of state, Political Action says "it will look as if it will be comparatively easy to yet effect these nominations by writing in names of candidates."

Chickering, Mary Escheller, and Elizabeth Lyman of Madison; Helen Huntzicker, Theda Luby, and Charlotte Wollage of Milwaukee.

Miss Agnes Junk, route 5, Kaukauna, who submitted to an operation for appendicitis Saturday at St. Elizabeth hospital, is recovering nicely.

Standardized Quality

Guarantees Greater Value to the Car Buyer

Large quantity production has long been standardized—quality standardization has been accomplished for the first time in motor car manufacturing by Walter P. Chrysler.

Merely building several cars is one thing. Building four lines of cars under one name and one management in one unified group of plants on a rigid system of quality standardization is a totally different thing.

Chrysler manufacturing, like Chrysler engineering, is different from ordinary manufacturing—radically and immeasurably different in principle and practice.

50, 60, 70, Imperial 80—These car numerals attached to the name Chrysler mean miles per hour and they mean something vastly more important than that in creating value.

They mean a common basis of quality for all four lines of cars—a rigid system of close measurement and fine manufacturing applied alike to each and everyone of the four lines—a common source of engineering skill—a division of overhead and operating costs—a combination of buying resources—a magnificent system of special machines and special processes devised to insure invariable accuracy in the manufacture of all four lines of cars—a positive protective process of guaranteeing the owner exactly the same basic quality no matter what price he pays or which Chrysler car he buys.

Certainty of unsurpassed performance is thus built into every Chrysler car, no matter what its price classification.

The Chrysler plan makes possible greater value for the investment than has heretofore been dreamed by the automobile buyer.

At one step it eliminates "purchaser's risk" and makes possible the purchase of either the lowest-priced or the highest-priced Chrysler with the positive assurance that the quality in each is equally unquestionable.

City Manager Form of Government.
Greater Representation for Appleton on County Board.
A systematic plan of Park and Playground extensions and improvements.

Follette and issues a lame excuse, so transparent its dishonesty cannot be hidden. What is to be said of this moral stamina and principle?

First of all, constituents should esteem straight-forwardness on the part of a public servant. They should like him to be frank and above-board. They should like him to be independent and to have the courage of his convictions. In this instance Mr. Schneider plainly is letting others tell him what to do and say, and to get himself in hot water, all to serve their purposes and political expediency. Nor are these gentlemen who are dictating to Mr. Schneider straight-forward in their course. They are making gross mis-statements and have little regard for truth, fairness or consistency. They are leaving nothing unsaid or undone, by way of innuendo, unsupported assertion and misrepresentation, to make the altogether straight-forward, progressive and useful record of Senator Lenroot appear unfavorable. Is it possible that such campaign methods can be successful?

REAL VIGILANCE

The governmental policy of economy apparently works not only in conserving that which it has but in getting that which it has not. In this we refer to the $8,281,119 back taxes which were collected by vigilant treasury officials during the single month of June after 38,257 preliminary investigations had been made prior to the levies. In cases where collection could not be obtained at once personal property has been distrained by United States marshals to secure the debt to the government.

"A penny saved is a penny earned" goes the old saw, to which might be added, "Get what is coming to you." Certainly the collection of delinquent taxes is pleasing the average citizen. He pays his taxes willingly and on time and it galls him to see on every hand persons who are paying less than they should toward the maintenance of the government. When delinquents are thus made to pay their share, it impresses the average citizen with a sense of justice having been done, and his reaction is favorable toward an administration which has been vigilant enough to accomplish the collection of over eight million dollars in delinquent taxes in one month.

WET STORM COMING

If the votes in state primaries mean anything (and all good politicians content that they do) then the wet feeling, or the anti-dry feeling, in this country is really gaining ground and is becoming such a strong factor that the chief point of issue between parties and candidates for the next few years may be principally one of liquor.

Certainly the results in Missouri and Montana point in that direction. Heavy gains by the wets are recorded in the state primaries just concluded in these states, while even in Oklahoma and Kansas the dries did not maintain their customary strength in the ballot box.

Whatever one's personal convictions concerning liquor or the prohibition regime, he must admit that the situation is resolving itself into a battle royal with no quarter to the vanquished. The strengthening of organizations pledged for and against prohibition gives rise to the forecast that it will be a long time before the drink question is settled for good in this country, and that conclusive victory for either side in the controversy will be won with difficulty.

TODAY'S POEM
By HAL COCHRAN

Have you ever seen an album, that was born in years gone by, in days when famous tin-types were quite plentiful to the eye? When old grandfather posed for shots, he stood and held his breath. 'Twas solemn then, but, say, today, you'd laugh yourself to death.

Fair grandma wore a bonnet that would make a dozen now. A feather perched upon it and they called it style somehow. Her skirts hung down just far enough to show her pantaloons. The sleeves upon her shirtwaist always puffed out like balloons.

Yea, there was form and fancy, with a bustle in its place. Of slither hose and lingerie there seldom was a trace. We look upon the tin-types and we modern people smile. Yet, in the days of long ago, our grandmas dressed in style.

The world moves and fashion, too, goes queerly on its way. Just think of what the grandfolk think of what we wear today. When looking at their tin-types, oft a smile comes creeping through. But don't you ever fool yourself—they're laughing at us, too.

One is born every minute, but quadruplets are needed.

Diamonds cost a lot of money, but they last a long time.

If all the autos in the United States were placed end to end it would be Sunday afternoon.

Had a big flood in Mexico. Besides damaging property it extinguished thousands of cigarettes.

Health Talks

THE COMMON DRINKING CUP

Although they bring no clinical or public health evidence to support the assertion that public health authorities still condemn the common drinking cup as an agent of medium in the spread of disease, a recent "article" by the surgeon general of the United States public health service appeared in a health bulletin; in this article the common drinking cup is credited with spreading the following diseases: Tuberculosis, pneumonia, influenza, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough, cerebro spinal meningitis, poliomyelitis (better known as infantile paralysis), smallpox, chicken pox, mumps. German measles, septic sore throat and last but not least the common cold—whatever that may be. For the purpose of the immediate article that may be. For the purpose of the immediate article that may be. For the purpose of the immediate article that may be.

That's spreading it pretty thick, in view of the fact that all this is theoretical. To my mind it is far fetched when the learned surgeon general goes on to say "Children lading on lemonade in glass es that are contaminated with the disease of others are in like manner exposed to the disease of others served." Gosh, I enjoyed several drinks of the finest lemonade that has tickled my esophagus in years which was served the other day by the children down the street a bit. I believe I was in no more danger in patronizing the children's lemonade stand than I am in purchasing lunch or dinner in the average restaurant anywhere, in fact I believe the chance of contracting disease would be greater in the average restaurant or lunch room.

Dr. Cumming, whose opinion takes some weight from his position in the federal health bureau, would thus pass the buck to the public. "It is the duty of any one who drinks at a soda fountain, a restaurant, or any other place, to find out whether the receptacle from which he drinks is safe, and if not, to demand one that is. Insanitary conditions of whatever nature should be immediately reported to the local health authorities."

Try that once! Next time you'll probably swallow your sense of duty along with the germs and filth in your beverage.

The health authorities in nearly every city, at any rate, purport to maintain a system of supervision of inspection of such places. But they employ blind or friendly inspectors. I should like to learn of a city where one can't find all ordinances or rules or precautions of this sort openly ignored and defied by the purveyors of food and beverages—ignored by the purveyors and by the health authorities themselves. One thing our American sanitary conscience has not yet embraced is a system of health or sanitary police. The reputed health guardians ignore gross breaches of the sanitary laws or regulations because if they dared to enforce the rules they would presently lose their jobs. The best they can do is to pass the buck to the people—tell the people what the layman's duty is when he observes uncleanly practices.

It is conceivable that a communicable or contagious disease might be transferred from one person directly to another person on an unwashed glass or cup. But as a practical every day matter this simply doesn't happen in my opinion.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mummr

What is murmur of the heart? Can you suggest a mode of living for one so affected? (I. D.)

Answer: A murmur is a faint humming sound heard about the heart, in addition to the normal heart sounds. It doesn't signify anything in particular. A doctor tells a patient about a murmur by way of an alibi—the doctor doesn't feel competent to commit himself as to whether there is anything the matter. He'd be a darn sight better doctor if he kept the murmur to himself—even if some other doctor subsequently discover it and wonder how the first doctor could possibly have overlooked it.

SENSE AND HEARD 1

DOC DIDN'T GET ANY MORE TIES! A certain Appleton dentist has conceived a sure fire method of combating the fle companies whose method is to obtain a list of names and send them three or four ties on approval together with a sales letter. He is Dr. E. J. Fadner, who not only failed to "bite" but returned a similarly worded letter to the company with a set of teeth. The letter follows:

Jim Barry Incorporated
Fox Building
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Dear Sir:

Under separate cover I am sending you a set of teeth. These teeth, I assure you, are made of the BEST available materials; imbibing the finest workmanship and most modern methods of construction. They are SCIENTIFICALLY CORRECT.

Under these circumstances I can let you have these teeth at a price never before heard of—just think, only $25. This is a saving to you of over $50. Had you ever imagined such a bargain existed?

I feel confident that you will send me your remittance check or money order for the above amount by return mail. I remain,

Sincerely yours,
(signed) Dr. E. J. Ladner.

P. S. I have no other agents than an attorney.

Bound by the chains of habit to the commonplace tasks of life. Weary of stale endeavor, weary of petty strife.

Tired of bromide pleasures, of hackneyed thought and word. Plagued with a hopeless longing of dreams too long deferred.

I fain would travel a winding road, alone, unfettered, free To a quiet sun-lit open space, or down to the restless sea, Or into some mountain fastness to a forest or mighty trees, Through whose uplifted branches whispers an errant breeze; There let me rest, or rove, or play, following inclination— In other words, I think it's time for my annual vacation.

The Question Box

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Frederic J. Haskin is employed by this paper to handle the inquiries of our readers, and you are invited to call upon him as freely and as often as you please. Ask anything that is a matter of fact and the authority will be quoted for you. There is no charge for this service. Ask what you want, sign your name and address, and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Address the Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. Will the men who attend the Press Congress in Switzerland in September have an opportunity to visit the League of Nations sessions? L. G.

A. They have been invited to attend meetings of the League, and will be seated in the Press Correspondents' Gallery, very much as Washington correspondents are seated in the galleries of the House of Representatives and Senate.

Q. How much money has been given by Americans for musical progress? F. E. M.

A. The Etude says that up to 1925 about $100,000,000 have been given to musical educational philanthropic purposes in America.

Q. What was the total number of flyers belonging to the Lafayette Escadrille during the World War and how were killed? H. L. L.

A. The total number was 210. Of these 65 died and 19 were wounded.

Q. Who furnished the money for the peace monument "Christ of the Andes"? G. R.

A. Upon the initiative of Senora de Costa, president of the Christian Mothers' Association of Buenos Aires, the women of the city undertook the raising of funds and had the statue made.

Q. What is the correct plural of cheese? E. C. A.

A. Dr. F. C. Vizetelly, Editor of Funk & Wagnalls, says that "The plural of cheese in cheeses. It dates from 1300, and may be found in Langland's Vision of Piers Plowman—"Twey grene cheeses." The plural is used in instance where various varieties are considered or numbers are specified: "The cheesemonger stocks cheeses of all types—American, Brie, Camembert, Cheddar, Dutch, Edam, and many others." The farmer had fifty "cheeses in his cheese-room." In speaking of the article in its attributive sense of referring to it in bulk, the singular form of the word is correct, thus, "Cheese sandwiches," meat "quantities of cheese," "the cheese market."

Q. Where are tribes or races of pygmies to be found? O. F.

A. Three types of pygmies are now recognized: the African pygmies; the Island pygmies of the Philippines, Andaman and the Bapins, probably of African origin; and the Asiatic pygmies of the southern portion of the Malay Peninsula, of Celebes and of some of the jungles of India.

Q. What is the most common first name in Ireland? C. M. E.

A. It is said that there are one-third more Irishmen by the name of Patrick in Ireland than by any other name.

Q. Is catalepsy a disease? I. L.

A. Catalepsy is a peculiar motor phenomenon, not a disease, found in a number of nervous disorders and consisting of a persistent muscular attitude of some part of the body. Catalepsy may or may not be accompanied by unconsciousness.

Q. How many styles of writing did the Egyptians have? N. S. G.

A. The Egyptians had four distinct styles—the hieroglyphic, hieratic, enchorial, and Coptic.

Q. Why doesn't all the fruit on a tree ripen at the same time? H. H. D.

A. The Department of Agriculture

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

PUBLISHING AUTHORS' NOTEBOOKS

The publication of "Sherwood Anderson's Notebook" recently by a well known New York firm may cause many other authors to get into the same game. It is a pleasant way of adding a new book to one's list, does not take much work. The idea is to let the readers do the work instead of doing it yourself and the argument is that what loses in finished art you gain in spontaneity.

Quite a few books of that general nature have already been passed off on the public. Somerset Maugham about a year ago published his book, "On A Chinese Screen," and he admitted frankly that he had intended to write a book about his trip through the orient but he developed a case of mental hookworm. He had taken notes as he went along and so he merely unloaded those notes on his public just as they came, helter-skelter. There were in the notes the germs of many stories and articles and perhaps novels, but he invited the readers to write their own stories. He did not add that there was nothing to prevent him from making use of the notes a second time, but that is the fact nevertheless. It is a paying thing for the author both ways.

GIVES PUBLIC NOTES

Dorothy Canfield did about the same thing with "Raw Material." In that too there were the germs for stories and articles but Dorothy Canfield asked her public to write them themselves as they went along, thus getting good practice in using their imaginations and also being given a look into an author's workshop, as it were.

"Sherwood Anderson's Notebook" is not quite like that and he does not only openly invite his readers to write their own stories. On the contrary, this notebook is hardly a notebook at all. I felt rather cheated when I read the book. Not because it was not interesting but because the title had led me to expect one thing and the book proved to be quite another thing.

For the most part "Sherwood Anderson's Notebook" is merely made up of reprints from various magazines—articles that appeared in the New Republican, The Nation, The Dial, The Double Dealer and other publications. From time to time there is a chapter headed, "Notes Out Of A Man's Life," thrown in, to all appearances, to justify the title "Notebook." These notes are brief, which is all right, but they are few in number and they might very well have been written for the occasion to float the reprints from the magazines. They lack the spontaneity and informality that we expect in bonafide notes. I cannot help feeling that they are manufactured.

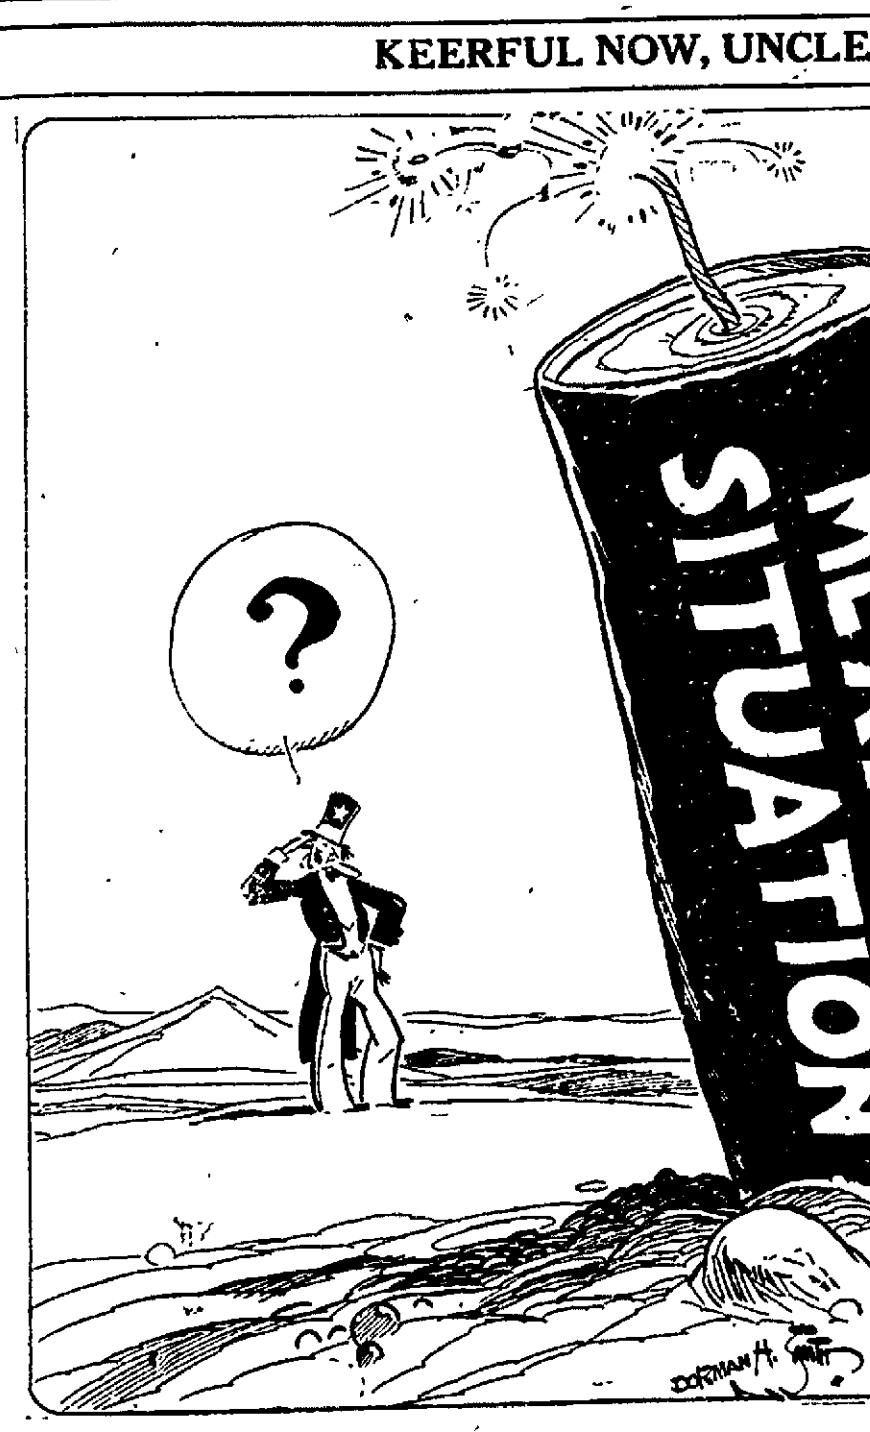

The book has a number of highly interesting articles and sketches and other things that are almost short stories. They are very much worth while in themselves but they are not notes and a feeling of resentment is justified on the part of the reader. Under the title of "Sherwood Anderson's Notebook" a hodgepodge of articles has been palmed off on him with about one half of one percent of notes added to take the curse off, and these of doubtful authenticity as notes.

WERE REAL THING

For the past 20 years or so another writer's notebooks have been coming from the press from time to time but none were the real thing. When Samuel Butler, author of "Erewhon" and "The Way of All Flesh," died in 1902 he left a large mass of manuscript note books. He had been keeping notes all his life on all manner of subjects and often he amused himself arranging these notes, editing them and adding touches as later information or maturer thought seemed to dictate.

After his death, his friend and biographer, Henry Festing Jones, began publishing these notebooks to persons interested in the mind of this curious genius they are among the most fascinating things he has written.

An interesting man's notebook does have a fascination that is often greater than that which inheres in his finished material. But it must be a genuine notebook, not one that is something else under the title of "Notebook."

Union Gives Farewell To One Member

Mrs. J. D. Laughlin was guest of honor at a farewell reception given by the Women's union of the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at the Baptist church. Mrs. Laughlin is leaving Thursday for Charleston, W. Va., where she will make her home. The union presented Mrs. Laughlin with a purse. Mrs. E. M. Salter gave the presentation speech. Two piano selections were played by Mrs. A. R. Eads and Mrs. Mable Meyers. Several vocal selections, Miss Emma Barclay gave two readings, "By Rule of Contrary" and "Lie Awake Song". "The Convict's Soliloquy, The Night Before Execution" was read by Mrs. M. Roehner. A dinner was served at 6:30 to about 50 persons.

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Mostly cloudy tonight and Thursday; probable showers; not much change in temperature.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
High pressure extends from Lake Superior to the coast of the Gulf of Mexico this morning, but it is attended by considerable cloudiness over the north. The pressure is slightly lower and somewhat erratic to the westward and southward, with some rains over the eastern slope of the Rockies. The indications are that the weather will be mostly cloudy and probably occasionally unsettled in this section tonight and Thursday as the crest of the high moves past and the lower pressure to the westward advances. Temperatures will continue somewhat below the normal.

VISION OF VIRGIN
Berlin—On the statement of two girls who said they saw the vision of the Virgin while playing, a little town near here has become overrun with crippled, maimed and blind who expect cures.

PAPERS TO HOLD JOINT PICNIC AT SHAWANO SUNDAY

Employees of Post-Crescent and Press-Gazette will mingle Sunday at North Beach.

Employees of the Appleton Post-Crescent and Green Bay Press-Gazette and their families and friends will hold their second annual joint picnic at North Beach, Shawano-Lake, Sunday. They will be guests of Judge Edgar V. Werner, circuit judge, who has invited them to take possession of his cottage for the day. Approximately 300 persons are expected to attend.

The delegations will leave Appleton and Green Bay in cars early Sunday morning. The Appleton group will take 47 and the Green Bay delegation highway 16, meeting at Bonduel, from where they will proceed together to Cecil and on county trunk H to the beach. A softball game, races, tug-of-war and other competitive games will be held between representatives of the two papers, while tennis, golf and swimming also will be on the program. The committee in charge has lined up a complete program. The newspapers will provide coffee, ice cream and soft drinks and each family will bring a basket lunch.

The cars will be decorated with streamers, balloons and banners. Appleton cars will bear the slogan, "You'll Like Appleton—Post-Crescent."

CHAMELEON GEM

Madras—A strange new gem has been found, the value of which experts have not been able to determine. It was discovered as part of a necklace of a maharajah which was auctioned off. The jewel shows a rosy tint in daytime, but changes to royal blue at night.

"Too Tired to Move"

How often we hear a woman use this expression! She is in a weakened and run-down condition, not fit to do her work. Bravely she struggles on. She becomes nervous and discouraged.

Whether she lives in a luxurious apartment, a cozy bungalow or a crowded city flat, every woman can understand the handicap of poor health. The woman in moderate circumstances suffers more, of course, than her well-to-do friend because she cannot afford to hire help.

In spite of her efforts, her house begins to look neglected. Her children say, "Mother is so cross."

Eagerly she listens when a neighbor tells her of other women who found the road to health and happiness.

Health! That's the answer to so many of our problems. Without health, a woman cannot make her home the happy haven she dreams of.

Mrs. GOLDIE SHOUR of May View, Illinois, is one of the many women who have improved their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was in a run down condition which caused her much unhappiness.

Mrs. SHOUR says, "I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried." She declares that she is now in better health than ever before.

ROTARIANS MEET AT GOLF COURSE

Weekly Meeting Displaced by Picnic Lunch for Members and Families

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotarians Monday took the form of a picnic at the golf links for members of the club and their families. Tables were spread under the trees near the ravine, and a local chef served the meal.

Many golf enthusiasts are playing regularly at the recently opened golf links, and the place promises to be popular both for its excellent golf future and for its scenic beauties. Situated on rolling hills with surrounding ravines thickly wooded, it is ideal. Several holes are now in play, the remaining two being under construction. The fairways are in excellent condition and the permanent greens have developed wonderfully with recent rains. Raymond Prall has charge of the concessions.

NEW LONDON PERSONALS

What about your Will?

Like most men, you are devoting your time and energy to creating an estate. What precautions have you taken to preserve your estate?

By making a will, you can establish trusts to assure that your children will receive a thorough education; that your son will get a good start in business; that your wife will be relieved of the care and management of your business and other interests. Through your will you can surround your estate with every safeguard so that after you are gone your affairs will be administered according to your wishes and to the best advantage of your heirs.

Acting as executor-trustee under your will, this bank will soundly manage the money or property you leave, and ultimately distribute your estate according to your instructions.

SODA GRILLS WHIP NEW YORK LIVES

New London — Melklejohn's Soda Grills rounded into form Tuesday evening and decisively whipped the New York Lives, 9-3. In the first three innings the pitchers had things their own way. Fooley, the New York pitcher, was batted hard in the next two innings and the Soda Grills sewed up the game. Melklejohn, though hit hard, received good support. Smith at short and Edminister at third made several thrilling catches. Batteries were: Soda Grills—Melklejohn and Fuesett; New York Lives; Fooley and Much. Monday night's game between the High Lives and Undertakers was postponed because of the rain.

VOLLEY SQUAD STOPS POSTALS WITH 7-2 WIN

Winning Streak of Clerks Is Stopped in Surprise Game Tuesday

Kaukauna—The Volleyballers soft ball team surprised the fast stepping Postals Tuesday evening, giving the latter crew a sound 7 to 2 trouncing. The Postals had won their three last games by big scores and were expected to beat the Volleyballers easily. Hulén pitched a good game for the winners, and Worthman performed well on first base. The Postal defense was a bit ragged and was responsible for several runs ship through.

Nobody scored in the first inning but the Volleyballers started the fireworks by counting three times in the second and holding the government men scoreless in their half. They scored again in the third. In the fourth the Postals scored third. In the fourth the Postals scored twice on a walk, and three hits. Everything was quiet in the fifth and the clerks, brought home a run for the Volleyballers in the sixth. Hulén first up, whaled one into left field and Worthman scored him by hitting a line drive into center field. The volleyballers scored twice again in the seventh.

Volleyball lineup: Hulén, Ryan, Dix, Werchom, Gehl, Rohm, Dix, Krahn, Hoffman and Engdahlts. Postals: Treptow, Kobussen, Nagen, Mereness, Schubring, Milz, Swedberg, Kltto, Van Dyke, Carnot, and Klammer. Score by innings: Volleyballers ..... 0 3 1 0 0 1 2 —7 Postals ..... 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 —2 Batteries: Volleyballers, Hulén and Ryan; Postals, Nagan and Kltto.

JUNIORS SCORE DOUBLE VICTORY

Local Ball Squad Whips Neenah Twice, 15 to 1 and 3 to 1

Kaukauna — Kaukauna's juniors members of the Junior Fox River Baseball league, continued their dizzy pace Tuesday by winning a double header from Neenah, 15 to 1 and 3-1. The first game was a runaway for the locals, who scored 11 runs in the second inning. Keefe was on the mound for the Electric in the first game and Neenah got few hits off his side arm delivery. Every Kaukauna man hit at least once. Neenah tightened up in the second game and the Kaukauna outfit found some real trouble. Hosan pitched this game for Kaukauna and did a good job. Vile caught the first game and part of the second, and Haupt finished the second.

Score by innings:
Kaukauna ..... 1 1 1 0 0 2 1 —15

Do You Make Coffee The Right Way?

For those who wish to be very scientific—and that means all of us, when it comes to making coffee—let me quote the words of Professor Prescott, head of the Department of Health at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology:

"Let the water come to the boiling-point, then let it cool just a trifle before putting in the ground coffee. The proper temperature is under 200 degrees, preferably from 185 to 190 degrees Fahrenheit. The time of contact between the coffee and the water should be brief, about two minutes at most. This short duration preserves the fine flavor, retains the stimulation qualities, but prevents cooking the woody, fibrous products which are what spoils the coffee taste. Always avoid very high temperatures in making coffee, for chemical changes in the acid and coffee fats may then occur which often cause objectionable results. Above all, the grounds should never be boiled, or come in contact with high direct heat."

So much from science! So choose your pot as you will, make the beverage with care and accuracy for your particular family, and let me add the caution of the practical housekeeper—keep the pot clean and sweet! If you like, after it is made, you may pour the infusion into one of the attractive glassware coffee-servers which allow the entire beverage to be seen through the glass.

FASHION HINTS

LOUNGING ROBES

Long lounging robes of heavy black satin have vivid tufted borders of orange or peacock blue or emerald. These heavy borders give a graceful swing to the hem. Sleeves are long and flowing.

SHADED COSTUMES

Two or three shades of the same color are an interesting feature of smart French street frocks. Browns and blues are especially lovely in combinations with burnt orange or rust.

SILVER AND MIST

For the young girl, a tulle dress of silver lace and white tulle is a suitable expression of her youth and innocence. The simple round neck line and bouffant skirt is a strictly debutante style in this type of frock.

STITCH PLEATS IN

Pleated skirts of jersey and flannel have the pleats stitched part way usually to a point just above the knees, and they retain their lines much more successfully than where the pleats are merely pressed in.

INTERESTING ENSEMBLES

Ensembles for fall show many interesting features, one being the use of a material a shade lighter or a shade darker for the dress than for the coat.

MONOGRAMS POPULAR

Monogrammed lining of dress used exclusively for hats, are now equally smart for frocks, and are very popular.

MATCHED JEWELRY

A matching set of jewelry includes a bracelet, necklace and earrings of pearls with jade drops.

COLORS CONTRAST

Color contrast this season are particularly interesting, the combination of yellow and green is extremely popular and so is violet and blue.

LACE COAT NOW

The lace frock frequently has its lace coat or wrap to match. Often it is combined with chiffon of the exact shade.

THAT RED, RED COLOR

Since this deep, wine red has become so extremely popular, we find this same shade being reflected in pumps and red shoes are seen. It is also used for bandings and straps on parchment and gray pumps.

RETURN TO SUEDE

After so much reptile skin and mottled leather for pumps, there is a tendency in fall styles to return to suede in both black and the brown shades.

FRAYED TAFFETA

Frayed taffeta ruchings trim some of the loveliest bouffant frocks. Sashes of taffeta and ribbon are fringed on the end.

A HAPPY EFFECT

The moire hat, very large as to brim and very deep as to headsize, is popular to wear with the lace or chiffon frock.

SMOCKS ARE SMART

Smocking is much in evidence this season, since it is a clever way of introducing fullness without departing from the idea of extreme simplicity.

NOVEL HANDLES

On the newest parasols and umbrellas we find snakeskin or lizard handles instead of the smooth leather.

GAY LINING

For summer frocks nothing is more appropriate than a handbag of crepe or chamois, usually quilted, and lined in a gay color.

VELVET TAM COMING

Hat crowns grow higher as the season advances, and the number of folds and creases also multiplies. It is said that the velvet tam will have its lining very soon.

COLOREUL HATS, FROCKS GIVE FLOWER GARDEN EFFECT

BY BETSY SCHUYLER

New Port, R. I.—As the days grow warmer here the hats grow larger, and as their circumstances increase, the color heights.

At the Casino, where the fashionable assemble for tennis or the morning concerts, and at the Beach, where everyone shows up by one o'clock for a dip, the colorful hats give a flower garden effect.

Extremely smart here is the large red hat, either in the hard lip stick shade or the fashionable bois de rose, and the more fashionable pinks. The smart hat contrasts rather than corresponds with the color of the frock.

Besides the reds, purple, yellow and all the pastel shades are in evidence.

FIFTY IN RED

Mrs. Cornelius Tangeman is often seen in all white costume and a brilliant red hat and Ed Widener, Lady has a red car wheel, so very large you can scarcely find her piquant little face beneath it.

With a gray two-piece frock, composed of a pleated skirt and jumper, Mrs. Dudley Davis wears a huge red hat trimmed with gros grain ribbon. Mrs. Bolling Lee also affects the red hat, though I much prefer her blue-gray model banded with deeper blue velvet with a big velvet bow on the side.

Another very lovely blue hat, of French blue untrimmed save for a ribbon, is frequently worn by the Princess Miguel de Braganza.

Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Banaparte is most often seen in a large black capeline hat, and I notice she affects mauve frocks to her very evident advantage.

With a complexion of such purity as Mrs. Leonard Thomas owns, any pastel colored hat is effective. I particularly liked her the other day at the Casino when she wore a large hat of green transparent straw, bound at the edge with green gros grain ribbon and a fan of green ribbon of the side. Her frock was of the same tender green crepe, so she fitted into the landscape most beautifully.

Mrs. P. A. B. Widener I notice matches her hats and frocks. She was most chic the other morning at the Casino wearing a huge biege colored milan hat that just matched her biege crepe de chine frock.

A very new type of hat was worn by Mrs. Brady Marriman. With a brim of black milan is joined a full draped crown of black velvet, draped and folded in a most charming manner.

Evening frocks here are conservative, but extremely smart. I saw Mrs. Henry D. Ripley in a purple chiffon affair with silver sequins, with a jacket-like bodice fastened in front with a rhinestone ornament. It accented the normal waistline.

The very straight, molded silhouette was seen to excellent advantage on Mrs. William Watts Sherman. Her frock was of dark blue crepe, trimmed with bands of blue paillettes and wide blue fringe.

Lady Camoy's was a picture of loveliness the other evening in green chiffon with panels and a deep yoke made of beading and embroidery the color of the frock. She featured the new blouse silhouette.

Apparently you can still let your conscience, or rather your figure, be your guide when it comes to the silhouette.

One day last week, for a change of scenery and a little less formality, I went over to Fisher's Island, a charming resort not far from New London, Conn. This is a favorite resort with the young social set.

Here I found the most fascinating bathing attire. Evelyn and Gwendolyn Talbot appeared on the beach in identical costumes of batiked silk in red, black and white. Charlotte Riggs, of Baltimore, was most attractive in a pin striped blue and white silk gingham, bound with white piping. A turban of the silk, provocatively manner, added to the charm of the ensemble.

COUNTRY OF PLAYSPOTS

Carroll Ferguson, of Greenwich, wore a black taffeta suit, with futuristic spotsches of color, and a square of bright red silk tied over one ear formed her cap.

Life here is quite informal—stockings are not required if you prefer to go without. Much of the social life centers about the fashionable Hay Harbor Club, where the evening dances are held.

This whole coastline from Maine to Long Island, particularly along the coast of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, is a chain of summer resorts and playspots. They vary in degree

ONE MUST NOT GIVE UP BEAUTY "WHEN SUMMER COMES"

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS

New York—Whether you return from your summer vacation with the delicately textured pink and white skin you depart with, or one resembling parchment or tanned leather depends solely upon yourself.

Be warned, Vacationists! Madame Helena Rubinstein, international beauty expert, says: "Nothing plays greater havoc with your complexion and your beauty generally than summer if you let it."

"Motoring across country, frequent changes of climate, salt water bathing, exposure to wind and sun, golf, tennis, changes of water—all the things a vacation is made up of, tend to coarsen your skin and corrugate you with wrinkles unless you take heed."

WASHING AGGRAVATES IT

Practically everything is against you. "And as a further complication," she goes on, "hot weather makes the glands more active and they secrete more oil, so all the dust and grime we accumulate on trains and in motels finds a receptive surface. The more we wash with soap and water, the more we aggravate the condition."

The canny traveler, she says, equips herself with a stock of materials in her handbag, sufficient to last until her return, and avoids the complications of strange water and cheap soaps to which her skin is not accustomed. She pins her faith to a good cleansing cream—not too fatty—a washing preparation that many be used instead of soap, and a face toning lotion that suits her skin.

"Before swimming or indulging in sports in the strong sun or wind," she advises, "cleanse your face carefully, rubbing the cream well into the skin, and if possible let it remain on for a few minutes before removing it with a clean cloth."

USE CREAM BEFOREHAND

"If you do not wish to burn or tan, or if you wish to tan uniformly use a protective cream after the cleanser, then a skin toning lotion before adding a thick coating of powder. Upon returning, immediately remove the traces of grime and soil again with the soap substitute and cleansing cream, and as you do so, pat your face with quick strokes. Give your neck attention as well as your face."

"Frequent salt water bathing shrivels the skin of the hands, and removes the natural oils, so don't neglect to replenish this loss artificially, by massaging with a tissue-building cream."

Our eyes, Madame Rubinstein says, suffer more in summer than any other feature.

"Bright sunlight," she points out, "naturally makes us squint. Golf, tennis, rowing, swimming, hiking and all the active sports take us into sunlight. The result may be wrinkles between the eyes, and crow's-feet unless we take the matter in hand."

TO KEEP EYES BRIGHT

"Bathe your eyes frequently, and rest them. At night, I suggest a compress of warm water followed by one saturated with a good eye lotion, preferably warm. As you put the wet cotton pads over your eyes, lie down and relax for five minutes. Then remove the compress and dry with a soft cloth or cleansing tissue. Then with your fingertips pat in a

WAYS TO COOK VEGETABLES IN SUMMER TIME

Must Be Prepared Carefully if They Are to Act as Protective Food

BY SISTER MARY

With vegetables in the limelight as never before it behooves every housekeeper to study their composition and requirements.

Nearly all vegetables are composed largely of water, particularly the succulents ones in which we are most interested just at this time of year. Some contain a little sugar, at least a trace of protein and many are so rich in mineral salts and the elusive and much talked of vitamins that they are classed as "protective foods" and are considered absolutely essential in the diet of men, women and children.

MUST COOK RIGHT

However, unless these vegetables are carefully and properly cooked they fall in their mission of maintaining good health.

Perhaps the ideal way of cooking vegetables is steaming, but we don't all have steam-cookers, so the simpler method of boiling is suggested. There are three rules for boiling vegetables—first, the water must be actively boiling when the vegetables are put into it; second, use as little water as possible; and third, WATCH while cooking.

The salting of green vegetables is important. The addition of salt to the water in which vegetables are cooked preserves their color and flavor. But if the water is "hard" the salt must be omitted until the vegetables are at least half done or they will be toughened. Green corn must not be cooked in salt water at all.

Many vegetables are ruined by over-cooking, so it's well to keep in mind the vegetable time table.

The perfectly boiled vegetable never needs to be drained. This is why constant watching is necessary. When the vegetable is to be served in a cream sauce any water that clings to it can be used with milk or cream in making the sauce.

When it is to be served "battered" use little water and let it cook as dry as possible, watching carefully and adding fresh boiling water as necessary to prevent burning until the vegetable is done.

After a vegetable is put on to cook keep the water actually boiling during the entire period of cooking. A "galloping" boil is not necessary.

To cook string beans blanch them first and then allow an hour to cook them.

Allow 20 minutes for cooking lima beans. Green baby limas will cook in 20 minutes.

New beets need one hour in which to cook. Cabbage should be cooked uncovered for 25 minutes.

Calliflower is also uncovered during the cooking and will cook in 20 minutes if the head is broken into flowerettes. Care must be taken not to overcook this vegetable as it loses both its delicate flavor and natural firmness in just a few minutes. Brussels sprouts need the same care. They also cook in 20 minutes.

New carrots will cook in 30 minutes, but old carrots need at least an hour.

Green corn must be actively boiled for 10 minutes. It a large amount of water is used and the bubbling scarcely stops when the ears are put in, the time can be counted from then, otherwise wait until active boiling begins again before counting the time.

KEEP THEM CRISP

Peas will cook in 20 minutes if they are going to cook at all. When old all the cooking in the world won't make them tender.

New potatoes need 30 minutes. Spinach cooks in 20 minutes. Overcooking ruins both flavor and color.

An one last suggestion. Always let vegetables remain in very cold water until all are ready to put into the boiling water. This insures natural crispness and preserves the color.

WILL TEAR DOWN OLD BUILDINGS OF MALT COMPANY.

Chicago Wrecking Firm Purchases Structures on Franklin, Superior-sts

The buildings of the former Wisconsin Malt and Grain company on the corner of W. Franklin and N. Superior-sts were sold Tuesday morning to the Rissman Wrecking company of Chicago. A crew of 50 men will arrive in the city Friday to tear down the building. The owners are Mrs. Ethel Ramsay Park and Mrs. Hallie Ramsay Watson of Canada. They are in a dilapidated condition, especially the old malt store house, which stands close to the sidewalk on Superior-st. Falling bricks have endangered people walking past the building. Some time ago the sidewalk was closed and the worst of the loose bricks removed, but the weather soon loosened more. Several complaints about the condition of the building had been received by the Appleton Fire department. The Rissman company will tear down the buildings and sell the lumber, machinery and equipment. More than 2,000,000 feet of lumber are contained in the building. L. L. Rissman, manager and owner of the company will have charge of the work. One of the unique features of the work will be the tearing down of a smoke stack 150 feet high. This stack must be carefully studied with the aid of geometric rules, and when it falls it will be broken into three pieces which will land without danger to any near by buildings. The Rissman company has wrecked several large buildings in Wisconsin. Its entire crew is composed of men experienced in the work. The company will establish an office in Appleton for the six months required to complete the project. Part of the machinery contained in the building has been made by Appleton firms. Two large steel boilers were made by the Northern Boiler Structural Iron Works, two centrifugal pumps were built by the Appleton Machine company, and a large generator and switchboard was manufactured by Kurz and Root company. The machinery and equipment will be sold.

Love Triumphs Over 30-Year Period As Sweethearts Of Long Ago Are Married

Akron, O.—Moonlight and starshine, playing on rippling water in a warm spring night, are as insubstantial as the shadows of a dream.

Yet out of them can be woven a web stronger than all the strength of years—stronger even than life itself, a shimmering net that can hold the kingdom and the power and the glory forever bright and unblemished. And that is why Naomi Knowlton, a gray-haired grandmother, has at last become the bride of John Gray, whom she learned to love 30 long years ago.

It was a warm summer night in June, 1895, and a big round moon was building misty shadows on the dreamy campus of Wooster College at Wooster, O. An ardent lover and his sweetheart stood on a wooden bridge and watched the moonbeams on the dark water below.

The girl was Naomi Knowlton. She was telling the boy, John Gray, that she had finished making her wedding gown. And he told her that they would be married as soon as he was graduated. The time was only a few weeks away.

The wind rustled the leaves of the trees by the quiet creek, and all the world world narrowed to the tiny orbit that held these two.

The wedding was not held. The girl's father, a clergyman, objected, though, the wedding date had been set. The engagement was broken. For a month the girl was very ill. Her wedding gown was put away in a trunk.

Time brought a measure of healing. The two lovers went their ways. Each was married. The boy wrote one last letter—"I'll think of you always as you stood that night on the bridge"—then their pathways drifted apart.

It was 1923. In New York John Gray was made widower by the death of his wife he had taken after his youthful romance was broken.

In Akron Naomi Knowlton—then Naomi Slife—buried the man her father had chosen for her husband. Neither widow nor widower knew of the other's existence. But neither had ever forgotten that June night that was buried far back in the dead past.

In June of this year Wooster College mailed to its graduates invitations to its commencement exercises. John Gray, in New York, saw the name of his old sweetheart. There were two telegrams—letters. Here are two of the letters that came west from New York.

"My Dear Naomi: And yet there are those who will say there is no God. . . . And we can resume this deep and lasting emotion just where it was years ago. You are just an adorable pal. All the world loves a lover and a lover loves all the world. We will work together as pals in the highest, noblest sense for our children. Always, John."

"Naomi, Dear: Our own lives, Naomi, are much richer and sweeter than they were in the days before we suffered. I don't know how I can explain my abrupt departure, dear. . . . Perhaps I can when we talk together. . . . I know that something went out of my life and that part of me was dead. . . . I know I have always loved you and will go back to you as to a shrine."

And so, the other day, there was a wedding in a quiet little church here. Bride and groom had gray hair, and the bride wore a gown that had been made 30 years ago. It was just a bit out of style—but then, it had lain in a trunk for three long decades.

The bride was radiantly happy. A glint of forgotten girlhood was in her eyes, which were somehow a trifle misty. The groom walked with the springy step of a man half his age. And so, as the story books say, they were married. And a dream that was dreamed under the light of a June moon 30 years ago, came true.

CARELESS AND GREEN DRIVERS VIOLATE RULES

Chief Prim Blames Ignorance and Carelessness for Majority of Violations

Ignorance and carelessness on the part of many well intentioned Appleton drivers are responsible for many daily violations of city regulations governing driving at places where signals, either the automatic ones at the intersection of Oneida-st and College-ave, arterial highway signs, or others, are installed, according to Police Chief T. Prim. Strict orders have been given to motorcycle officers to watch for motorists who make right-hand turns against the "stop" signs without first coming to a full stop.

Other common traffic regulations repeated by Chief Prim to "brush up" the forgetful drivers include:

"All vehicles must come to a complete stop at an arterial—a mere hesitation is not sufficient.

"No U turns are allowed in the business section of College-ave. Signs clearly indicate all intersections where these turns are prohibited. Tourist cars violate this regulation most commonly, which is one of the evils of non-uniform traffic regulations throughout the state.

Parking cars in front of hydrants, or on corners where street cars stop is in direct violation of city ordinances.

"When safety zones are occupied the motorist should use the right. The speed limit is 15 miles an hour."

THREE TIMES AS MANY WEDDINGS IN JUNE AS JULY

Dan Cupid, he who speeds the poignant darts of Eros to the hearts of unsuspecting swains and maidens, either lost his skill at archery in July, or he took a vacation during a large part of the month. At any rate, he sent only about one-third as many of his arrow-pierced victims to the office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk, to gain succor via applications for marriage licenses, as the number of those he sent during June.

Twenty-seven applications for marriage licenses were made last month, compared with 75 applications in June, the traditional month of "brides and roses" a decrease of 48 applications. The number last month also was 10 less than that of July, 1925, when 37 applications were made.

"DELLS" MOST FAMOUS SCENERY IN WISCONSIN

Kilbourne—(AP)—The nine miles gorge, lined with grotesque stone formations fashioned by the wind and weather of the ages, known as "The Dells" is the most famous bit of scenery in a state proud of its out-of-doors.

In this miniature Grand Canyon, the Wisconsin river is quiet enough for small launches and steamers which ply there for sightseers.

The Dells as they are known geographically are the carving of the glacial sheets that came down from the north long before the recorded history of man.

Stand Rock, which rises like a tower adjacent of a great cliff Black Hawk, the likeness of an Indian chief; and Gold Water Canyon, where the temperature is some twenty degrees lower than the air out of the canyon, are among the favorite beauty spots of the region.

Crevices in the cliffs give shelter to countless thousands of swallows and the ferns and mosses give many of the crags fantastic beauty.

DUCK HUNTERS TO MEET FRIDAY

Will Complete Arrangements for Booster Gathering in Two Weeks

Neenah—The second of the preliminary meetings of hunters interested in reserving hunting privileges on Lake Poygan will be held Friday evening at Neenah city hall to arrange for a booster session to be held in two weeks.

At the first meeting in Neenah last Friday evening, nearly 100 hunters pledged themselves to support the movement.

Committees appointed to visit cities and towns in this vicinity with an effort to create interest among hunters in the project have been busy the last week and have succeeded in enlisting several influential men who will be present at the Friday evening meeting.

The membership list will be kept open in order that all interested may join. The organization, which is seeking to promote interest in Lake Poygan hunting, will be made permanent.

WILL HOLD HEARING ON REROUTING OF HIGHWAY

Neenah—A hearing before the state highway commission relative to rerouting highway 150, through Neenah will be held in the city hall at 1:30 Thursday afternoon, Aug. 28, with Mr. W. W. Torkelson in charge. The hearing is the result of a petition signed by several hundred Neenah and Menasha people asking that the route, recently changed to leave highway 150 at the Verbeck corner west of the city and rerouted over a cinder road to connect with highway 151 and on north along the river road, be changed so that traffic will remain on highway 150 over the new cement road to connect with Main-st and highway 15 through the two cities.

HOLD FELKER, SAWYER
CUP RACES SATURDAY

Neenah—The races for the Felker and Sawyer cups by Class A yachts will be held Saturday and Sunday over the Oshkosh course on Lake Winnebago. Of the two cups, the Felker cup is the oldest and most prized. The yacht Fritz of Oshkosh holds the trophy at present, having won it last year. The Onaway, owned by S. F. Shattuck of Neenah, holds the Sawyer cup. All Neenah class A boats will take part in these races which will be preliminary to the annual regatta of the Inland Lake Yachting association which starts Monday afternoon in Oshkosh.

ROTARY CLUB NINE
LOSES FIRST BATTLE

Neenah—Rotary club team of the Businessmen's Indoor Baseball league lost its first game of the season Tuesday evening in the regular weekly play to the News-Times team by a score of 5 to 3. The defeat dropped the Rotary team into a tie for first place with the Hardwood Knolls and the Soft Knolls. The Hardwood Knolls defeated the Kruger team 14 to 1. Softwood Knolls conquered Kotex team 13 to 3, and the Kuwamis club team defeated the Grocers 8 to 6.

Next Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock sharp the Kotex and News-Times teams and the Hardwood Knolls and Kuwamis teams will play at Columbia park diamonds, and the Rotary and Kruger and Grocers and Softwood Knolls will play on the Washington school diamonds.

MANY PYTHIANS WILL ATTEND CELEBRATION

Neenah—Knights of Pythias lodge is planning to send a large delegation to Milwaukee next Monday and Tuesday to attend a celebration arranged in honor of Richard S. Witte of Milwaukee, who has been elevated to supreme chancellor of Knights of Pythias. Elaborate plans are being made by the Milwaukee Pythians and lodge to entertain thousands of outsiders.

The Monday evening program will be in the nature of a reception and entertainment in honor of supreme chief Ada Belle Onion of Dallas, Tex., and will include a concert by the Chippewa Falls Pythian band and various readings and musical selections. Tuesday evening the feature of the celebration—the Pythian parade—will begin at 7:30. The reception in honor of Mr. Witte will be held in the auditorium.

TWIN CITY
DEATHS

CARL A. FRISSELL
Neenah—The funeral of Carl A. Frissell, who died Monday night, was held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. W. Wanner, 1181st St. The services were in charge of the Rev. A. J. Sommers, pastor of St. Paul English Lutheran church. Burial was at Oak Hill cemetery.

LOUIS HANKE
Neenah—Funeral services for Louis Hanke, who died Tuesday morning, will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the home on E. N. Water-st. The services will be conducted by the Rev. I. E. Schlagenhauf, pastor of the Methodist church. Burial will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

AGUST PONTOW
Menasha—August Pontow, 85, died at the home of his son-in-law, Fred Wolf, 230 Broad-st., after a three weeks' illness. He was born in Germany and came to Menasha 35 years ago, since when he has lived here most of the time. Before coming to Menasha 13 years ago to live with his daughter, Mrs. Wolf, who died several years ago, he operated a farm near Wittenberg.

Mr. Pontow is survived by six sons: Gustave, William and Peter, Menasha; August and Emil, Milwaukee; and Paul, whose present address is unknown. The funeral will be held at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon at his home and at 1:30 at Trinity Lutheran church. Interment will be made at Oak Hill cemetery.

COUNCIL TO CONSIDER
TWO SCHOOL SITES

Menasha—An adjourned meeting of the common council will be held Wednesday evening. The most important question to come before the session will concern two proposed school sites in the Second ward, one at the corner of Sixth and Tayco-sts, and the other at the corner of Second and Tayco-sts. It is probable that sanitary conditions in certain parts of the city also will be considered.

AWARD EIGHT SCOUTS
TENDERFOOT BADGE

Menasha—Among the members of St. Patrick troop of boy scouts who received tenderfoot badges at the court of honor at the valley scout camp last Sunday were Myron Wrase, James Shea, Andrew Egan, James Wrase, Edward Eisch, Roman Hauser, Jack Wrase and Howard Boreson. $2,500,000

Eppley Hotels Company
Omaha, Nebraska

First Mortgage 6½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds
(Authorized $5,000,000)

Dated July 1, 1926 Due July 1, 1941

THE OMAHA TRUST COMPANY, OMAHA, NEBRASKA, Trustee

HISTORY: The Eppley Hotels Company was organized in the Spring of 1925 to acquire a chain of strategically located hotels which had been successfully built up over a period of ten years by Mr. E. C. Eppley, as a Proprietorship. Ninety-five per cent (95%) of the stock of the company is owned by Mr. Eppley, who has been generally known as one of the largest individual owners of hotels in the country. The Company owns in fee the following hotels and the premises on which they are located:

Lincoln Hotel, Lincoln, Nebraska Norfolk Hotel, Norfolk, Nebraska
Lincoln Hotel, Scottsbluff, Nebraska Evans Hotel, Columbus, Nebraska
Capital Hotel, Lincoln, Nebraska Cataract Hotel, Sioux Falls, S. D.
Chieftain Hotel, Council Bluffs, Iowa

The Company owns all the stock (with the exception of Directors' shares) of the corporations owning leaseholds in, and operating the following hotels: Fontaine Hotel, Omaha, Neb.; Magnus Hotel, Cedar Rapids, Iowa
Rome Hotel, Omaha, Neb.; Martin Hotel, Sioux City, Iowa
Lindell Hotel, Lincoln, Neb.; West Hotel, Sioux City, Iowa
Montrose Hotel, Cedar Rapids, Iowa Carpenter Hotel, Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

Total room capacity of the above hotels is 2,737.

Net earnings have been consistently redivided, resulting in the very substantial equity (over $4,000,000 based on valuation) remaining for the stock of the Company after deducting this bonded indebtedness.

SECURITY: These bonds will be a direct obligation of the Eppley Hotels Company secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a First Mortgage on the above fee hotel properties and their furnishings and equipment and by pledge of all stock (except Directors' shares) of the corporations owning leaseholds in the last mentioned eight hotels.

VALUATION: The American Appraisal Company have appraised the fee properties and buildings thereon at $4,131,425, and the several leaseholds at $1,105,000. Albert Pick & Company, Chicago, have valued the furnishings and equipment at $1,940,000, making a total of $7,177,025, after the completion of the two hotels under construction.

EARNINGS: Average annual net earnings for the above hotels for the three years ending December 31, 1925, after depreciation and applicable to interest, as reported by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, were over two and one-fourth times the maximum interest requirements on these bonds. The Capital Hotel, just opened, and the Norfolk and Chieftain Hotels to be opened in the next few months, will increase the room capacity from which the above earnings were derived by over 21%. It is estimated by the management that earnings for the calendar year 1926 will be over three times the maximum interest charges on these bonds.

$100 — $500 — $1000 pieces
at par and interest to net 6½%

In the purchase of these securities we have acted upon information furnished us, which we regard as reliable. All statements in this circular are based on such information.

Released by PRODUCERS DISTRIBUTING CORPORATION

AT FISCHERS APPLETON THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Can you shed any light on that, either by fact or theory?"

"I'm afraid I can't," Mr. Mott. Perry Heath has been a friend of mine for years and while I can't think he killed his wife, I am still more at a loss to imagine a cause for his disappearance just now."

"What significance do you attach to this card, 'The Work of Perry Heath'?"

"Personally, I think that card was dropped by accident. It is a card that we have joked about often. It has been kicking around this studio for months."

"I see. Then you don't think it indicates that Mr. Heath killed his wife, and placed the card there in a spirit of bravado?"

"No, indeed. I think it far more likely that some one else killed Mrs. Heath and placed the card where it was found, in order to seem to incriminate Mr. Heath. That is, unless my other impression is the truth, that the card fell there accidentally."

"These things will be gone into more thoroughly at the inquest," Mott said. "That will take place this afternoon, at two o'clock. Please be in attendance, Mr. Inman."

He turned to Bunny with an apologetic glance, as if he hated to annoy her, but his duty was imperative.

"Miss Moore," he said, gently, "you friend, Mrs. Heath, was not in the habit of using what is known as the make-up box, was she?"

"No," said Bunny, frightened at this opening. She had expected questions as to her friendship with Myra and her position in the house.

"Knowing her well, do you think she herself applied the powder and rouge which is now so conspicuously on her face?"

"Oh, no," Bunny said, excitedly, "she never would do that! Never. Why, we often teased her to try it, but she never would."

"Did she possess a vanity box of her own?"

"Why—yes, she had two or three that were given her as presents, by people who didn't know her distaste for such things."

"Where are these gifts?"

"I don't know, I'm sure. Up in her boudoir, I suppose."

"Not likely she used one of them then, for the cosmetics now on her face?"

"No—no, I shouldn't think so." Bunny had turned pale, and was shaking with nervousness. But she forced herself to speak calmly, and managed to control her quivering lips.

"Is the red scarf that is so artistically draped round Mrs. Heath's figure her own property?"

"No," the girl replied, "it is mine."

"Yours? How did it get where it now is?"

"I don't know, I'm sure," Bunny had conquered her nerves somewhat, and was beginning to try her natural wiles on her inquisitor. "I was wearing it last evening when I stepped out on the porch, and when I went upstairs to bed, I left it down here. Why Mrs. Heath put it round her, I don't know. I'm sure. It was not like her at all. All her scarves are white or silver grey."

"You were the first to leave the group last night to go up to bed?"

"Yes, we were all about to go, but I chanced to go up first. Why?"

"The sudden question was in a rather impertinent tone, but was accompanied by an innocent and enchanting smile, that made Detective Mott sit up and take notice. He had his own opinion of young women who tried to cajole or bewitch a detective, and he immediately began to watch his step."

"Why, because I want to know all about when you last saw Mrs. Heath alive?"

"That was the time," Bunny spoke softly. "I said good night,—I think,—or, perhaps I didn't, we're not very punctilious about such things, and I went up to my room and shut the door, and I didn't hear anybody else come upstairs at all."

"And you didn't leave your room again, last night?"

Bunny paled, and her big blue eyes stared at the detective.

"What do you mean?" she said, with a gasp and a little catch in her voice.

Mott looked at her. Could it be that this lovely child had some knowledge, guilty or otherwise, that she was keeping back?

"It doesn't seem to be an abstruse question," Mott smiled kindly at her. "I only asked if you left your bedroom again after you went in and shut the door."

"Why, no,—no, of course I didn't!"

"Then you knew nothing of the tragedy until you came downstairs this morning?"

I knew before I came down, because Carter, Mrs. Heath's maid, came to my room and told me."

"I see. And did Carter tell you the details of Mrs. Heath's appearance? How her face was painted, and how there were candles at her head and feet?"

"No,—she didn't tell me that—"

Bunny looked vaguely at Mott, her lovely eyes clouding with tears, as she glanced toward the beautiful still figure on the floor.

"Then you were shocked afresh when you came downstairs and saw the scene that you did see?"

"Yes,—oh, yes."

"You gazed at the strangely painted face?"

"Yes," Bunny's eyes looked straight into the detective's own.

"You saw the crimson scarf draped across the body?"

"Yes."

"You saw the card about Mr. Heath's work?"

"Yes."

"You saw the candles burning at her head and feet, almost as if in a church?"

"Yes." Bunny looked rapt now, and then, as the detective ceased his questions she burst into a flood of helpless tears, and blindly took the handkerchief Larry silently offered.

"Miss Moore," Mott seemed to ignore her sudden breakdown, "please answer this with candor. Was there any ill feeling, to your knowledge, between Mr. Heath and his wife?"

"No," and Bunny ceased crying, and faced the detective with all her old insouciance and independence. "Most certainly not! They were one of the most devoted couples. I ever knew."

"There was no difference of opinion,—I mean on a vital subject?"

"No, nothing special or definite. Except, perhaps, that Mr. Heath did not sympathize in Mrs. Heath's fancy for collecting old glass."

"That would scarcely be sufficient reason for him to attack her with one of her own old bottles," Mott said, gravely.

"No, of course not," returned Bunny.

Piano Holding Its Own Despite Car And Radio

"What's that funny box over there in the corner?" 5-year-old Cuthbert wanted to know. He pulled his papa's sleeve and pointed to the shining mahogany piece of furniture, topped with a fancy demonstration of the crocheter's handiwork, in grandma's parlor.

"That, my son," said the father, "is a piano."

"What does it do?"

"Music comes out of it," explained the parent.

"Make it go daddy," pleaded young Cuthbert.

"I can't," replied the man, with a sad shake of the head. "The last man who knew how to play one died years ago."

Will this sort of conversation take place 50 years from now? Some piano dealers say, "Yes." Others "No."

Some state, "There are more pianos in American homes now than ever before." Others deny their assertion outright, and come back with, "Pianos are on the decline! There won't be such a thing as a piano a few years from now."

Fortunately, the art of Paderewski and Rachmaninoff will never be obliterated, but those who deal in musical instruments are unanimous that the majority of pianos sold today are of the self players type. The straight piano, they say, is "slipping fast."

Most pianos are the registering type which enable the operator to reproduce the art and touch of the master. "Anyone with an ear for music," piano men say "can get better music from one of the new registering pianos than if he were an expert playing by hand."

One piano man in business for 15 years, said half of the piano factories flourishing when he started are now out of business. "The automobile," he said, "is the cause of the decline in the piano industry. It has knocked the props out from under the piano business." This statement was backed up at the golden jubilee anniversary meeting of the Music Industries Chamber of Commerce in Chicago, at which the principal speaker, Rob ert W. Lawrence, New York, said, "Anything that centers in the home is helpful to the sale of pianos. It welds the family together. On the other hand, the automobile, the piano's greatest rival for that 'installment dollar,' takes interest away from the home."

There are other dealers who say that the piano business is increasing. They estimate that there are five times as many pianos in American homes today than there ever were. "We are selling mostly players," they say, "as they are by far the most popular. What straight pianos are being sold are mostly a new type of small grand, along with a few uprights. We believe that the piano is still the instrument of the home and nothing can ever take its place. The radio has not hurt the piano business in the least, contrary to the popular opinion. The number of people learning to play the piano is increasing, as we find by checking up with music teachers. Many people who buy players do so with the intention of having their children learn to play on them, and having good music from rolls while their children are learning."

One well known piano man said that he sold more pianos in Appleton last year than in any previous year, and that he has sold more pianos so far this year than in the same period in 1925.

Her Own Way.

A STORY OF
A GIRL OF TODAY

A PROMISE OF HELP

Jerry Hathaway made his declaration so positively that I was a hat-check girl at the Beaux Arts restaurant that I contented myself by briefly saying "yes."

Mr. Hathaway then turned to Jim with a grin.

"So you're the person who knocked Sellers down at the Beaux Arts Good for you, old chap. It's worth that black eye. And I heard that he was much worse off than you are. That guy has had it coming to him for some time and I almost wish that I had been the one to do it. I came into the restaurant a few months after you had gone and heard everyone talking about the fracas. 'I was looking for Syd Alston. Have you seen him anywhere, Jim?' 'No I've not seen him for two or three days.'"

"Well, I guess I won't look for him any longer. When you said you were going to dine, I just remembered that I hadn't anything to eat since breakfast, so if you people don't mind I'll just edge myself in on your party."

"We were just in front of a little Italian place and we filed in after I had said that I liked spaghetti."

Then Mr. Hathaway had to be told the whole story from beginning to end, and of course Jim said:

"Judy has lost her job."

"Well," said Jerry Hathaway, "I don't think she'll have much trouble getting another."

His eyes expressed almost more and warmer admiration than would make me quite comfortable. "There's one thing, however, that I can do and that is to make that gang of cutthroats return that money to Miss Dean that was stolen from her at the Beaux Arts. They can't tell me that you were trying to film them out of a dinner. No, I would think they'd look at you. I've heard something of this kind a couple of times about the place and if they don't look out, it'll get a bad name."

"Don't you worry, Miss Dean. I'll have your money for you by tomorrow night."

Jim's face broke out in smiles.

"I tell you, Judy, I'm glad you have Jerry on your side. He'll get your money for you, never fear."

Looking up, I saw a peculiar expression pass between the two men. It was as if Mr. Hathaway was telling Jim to keep his mouth shut about something.

"I'll be awfully glad to have my money back of course, Mr. Hathaway, but I don't want you to subject yourself to any annoyance."

"Don't you worry, Miss Dean. It will not be me that will be subject to annoyance. You see those men sized you up as alone and friendless in a big city or they would not have dared to do as they did. Tomorrow will be a different story."

WOMAN DESERTED BY HUSBAND GETS DIVORCE

Charging that her husband, John Reynolds, deserted her two months after they were married, Mrs. Florence C. Reynolds, Appleton, was granted a divorce Monday afternoon in municipal court. Mrs. Reynolds alleged that they were married in Menominee, Mich., Oct. 1, 1924, and that her husband deserted her on Dec. 2, 1924. Since the separation Reynolds failed to contribute to the support of his wife, according to the complaint. The decree granted Mrs. Reynolds $50 a month alimony and the right to assume her name by a former marriage, Florence C. Oberweiser. Reynolds, whose address is unknown, did not contest the suit.

SEEK HEARING OF BLACK CREEK MAN FOR AUG. 18

Hearing of John Stutzman, Black Creek, who pleaded not guilty in municipal court Monday to three charges preferred against him by F. E. Satorius, also of Black Creek, was set for 9 o'clock in the morning of Aug. 18. In his complaint Satorius alleges that Stutzman was intoxicated in the village of Black Creek, that he used abusive and obscene language, and that he threatened Satorius with bodily harm. All charges were denied in court Monday by Stutzman.

Oh Dear! I Must Do The Dishes!

What woman hasn't at some time felt that she would rather go with out dinner than have to look forward to washing the dishes?

It is not necessary to feel this way nowadays. The Bureau of Home Economics has studied this problem and worked out a method which is so simple and so quick that while dishwashing may still not be a joy, it at least is no longer a burden.

GREEN BAY NINE OPPOSES BAETZMEN HERE SUNDAY

Clusman Tribe Credited With Three Wins In Row Over Fast-Moving Locals

LaCrosse, Star Sox, Hurier, Opposes Sternagle or Refike in Last Bay Battle

STANDINGS	W.	L.	Pct.
Oshkosh	10	3	.769
Fond du Lac	9	4	.692
Green Bay	8	7	.533
APPLETON	6	8	.429
Kimberly	6	9	.400
Neeah	3	10	.251

SUNDAY GAMES
GREEN BAY AT APPLETON
Oshkosh at Kimberly
Fond du Lac at Neeah

When the third place Green Bay club invades Appleton Sunday for a valley loop game with the Baetzmen, revenge again will be a motive for a Baetz victory. The game is the last of the season between the teams and in every game the Bays have come out on top to form an Appleton jinx, second only to Oshkosh. A few weeks ago Appleton broke this jinx by spoiling the afternoon for the loop heads on their home grounds as well as spoiling their "batting practice" and starting them on a toboggan where they continued to slide until a nice three game lead was vanquished on a tight one-fiftieth lead. Now the Bays have duplicated Oshkosh's feat all season and confident, because of the win over the loop leaders, the Baetzmen are out to do to the Clusman tribe what they did to Oshkosh in the revenge meeting.

One of the Bays trimmings of the local aggregation was the worst an Appleton club has taken in years. 14-2 and this also must be revenge. The Bays are just a game and a half ahead of Appleton and a local win will aid the Baetzmen considerably in a fight for third and possibly second place before the season is over, as they must play at least four more games yet this season and have plenty of chances for high positions by steady wins.

Either Refike or Sternagle probably will face the Baetzmen and both are new to the Clusman crew. Crowe lost twice to the Sox and Kraft once. LaCrosse star hurier of the loop, probably will be the Bay choice, with Schuette trying his wares against the All-Stars in the Chief William's day battle Saturday. The Bays will be playing two games in two days, will see one Appleton regular will see service Saturday and these not for the entire game.

Oshkosh, which beat Kimberly Saturday, invades the mill town for another tilt this Sunday. Vanderloop fanned 10 men last week and made the Sawdust city clan look foolish in the pinches. Hackbarth's triple on a ball made to him looking a high one, driving in the only earned run. Errors behind Vandy and bonehead base-running lost him the tilt. If his teammates play real ball behind him, Oshkosh is due for its third trouncing in four starts Sunday and a possible lowering from the top rung if Fondy wins.

Fondy invades Neeah, where Nixon, speedball star, with an approved team behind him, has won his last two starts from Green Bay and Oshkosh, two of the best in the loop. Fondy is the other first-division team and the Neeahites playing at home, will work hard for a win. A win will put them within reach of fifth and even fourth place if Kimberly and Appleton should lose. A Fondy win means a tie for the top should Kimberly trip the Noelmens. If Kim wins this tilt and Appleton loses to Green Bay, the Coachmen will replace Appleton in fourth place.

Prospects of a blanket finish in the race are better than ever, with Appleton playing a decisive part. The weakening Oshkosh crew has four straight tilts on foreign fields, always a hard task to win, three being against Green Bay, Appleton and Fondy, all good squads. Appleton meets all three loop leaders, starting with Green Bay Sunday, on the home field before the season ends, so that what the Baetzmen can do will cut a big figure in deciding the race. The Baetzmen should go good before the home crowd. Two weeks after the Bays play here Oshkosh comes to Brandt park and two weeks later Fondy closes the season on the local field, in a game which may mean a pennant for Oshkosh or Fondy, depending on whether Appleton wins or loses.

COBB GETS IN GAME AS A PINCH RUNNER
Ty Cobb hasn't been playing much of late, but he did get into the game long enough to score the winning run the other day. Cobb put himself in to run for Pitcher Gish in the tenth and came home with the necessary marker to whip the Nationals. He was out at the time.

HELPFUL HINTS TO GOLFING STARS

JIM BARNES—GRIPPING WOOD AND IRON CLUBS
There is no difference in the method of gripping, except that there may be a few minor changes between the grip for a full stroke and for a very short chip shot or the like. But I do recommend a somewhat tighter grip with the fingers for long iron shots than for a swing with wooden clubs. The reason for this is: A player generally uses an iron club where distance is any consideration, largely because the ball is lying a bit too close for a wooden club. And in such a case a rather tight grip is needed to carry the club-head through.
Don't confuse this, however, with any tightening up that will result in making the wrists stiff, which will be sure to spoil the stroke.
Then, of course, the grip for a niblick shot from a sandtrap or even from heavy rough needs to be lighter. Here the need is more urgent. It is necessary either to plow through the sand or else drive the club-head through thick, heavy grass.

APPLETON STARS AID IN HONORING CHIEF WILLIAMS

Baetz, Schabo, Ashman, Tor-now, Radtke on All-loop Team to Play Bays Saturday

Saturday, August 14 will be a big red letter day in the Fox river valley league at Green Bay. On that day Chief Williams, the grizzled veteran of the Bays, will be the honored guest at a ball game given in his behalf by the club. This game will be a benefit affair to help "Chief" recuperate his lost finances. His residence and entire personal effects were destroyed in a fire on his farm recently. Over one thousand tickets have been placed and it is expected that a monster crowd will turn out to pay homage to the most popular player Green Bay ever has had. Manager Clusman of Green Bay has arranged the local affair, and will have a full force of helpers to help put the thing over right. Bills have been placed around the country at the Oneida reservation, along the stockbridge, Brothertown, and Calumetville district where Chief is well known and it is expected that the tribes will all turn out to honor the old and still cunning warrior who has this year placed baseball on the map at Green Bay. Chief has been coaching the Green Sox and developed a wonderful team out of Clusman's youngsters.

President C. L. Pre-Fontaine will bring into the Bay one of the greatest collection of stars in the Fox river valley. The game will be one of unique character. Six managers will participate in the game, one on the Green Bay team, and five on the visiting team. Managers Louis Faris, Bruce Noel, Art Larson, Clarence Baetz and Ossie Cooke, should, with the help of the rest of the stars, create much interest in the game. Large crowds are expected from various cities in the league.

The following list of players will accompany President Pre-Fontaine to Green Bay Sunday:
Fond du Lac—L. and J. Faris, Sanders, Saff, Sonn and Aigner; Oshkosh—Noel, Hackbarth, Weed, Dixby and Sommerfeld; Neeah—Janson, Rom-nek, Handler, Haase, Whitpen, Madison, Anderson and Smith; Appleton—Baetz, Schabo, Ashman, Schultz, Tor-now, Radtke; Kimberly—Cobb, Smith, H. and L. Thien, Vanderloop and Pogan.

Umpires will be Dobry, umpire in chief, Sweeney and Lepine all-star league men. Everything and everyone donates for the day—not one cent of expense will be charged.

Waiooping the Railway team by a score of 12-4 Tuesday afternoon at Fourth ward diamond, the Bus Drivers took their tenth straight victory in the Tractor Co. softball loop. E Phillips, Hens, Hoffman and Grimm played neat ball for the winners, both sides and at bat. Ferguson and Mortenson were the heavy hitters for the losers. The Railway crew took an early lead and things looked bad for the winners, but after the fourth frame the losers were unable to score while the Railway crew piled up several runs in the latter frames. Each scored in the first and the winners added one in the second. In the third the losers took their last three for a 4-2 score. In the fourth the Busmen got three more for a 5-4 lead which lasted until the seventh with a close finish in sight. Then the Busmen hit their stride and broke loose, clouting out four runs in that frame and three more in the eighth to win when Bogan, losing hurier, weakened. The losers got only six hits off Skall and made five miscues while Bogan allowed 16 hits. The Busmen erred twice.
Railway 10 3 0 0 0 0 0 4 6 5
Bus Drivers 1 1 0 3 0 4 3 x-12 16 2
Batteries: Bus Drivers—Skall and A. Kransuch; Railway—Bogan and Kieles.

MINNEAPOLIS YOUTH MEDALIST IN TOURNEY

Chicago—(P)—Thirty-two young golfers, survivors of a field of more than 250, were paired in the first rounds of the championship matches in the Western Junior tournament at the Edgewater Golf club Wednesday.

Art Tverna, phenomenal 18-year-old putting specialist from Minneapolis, whose brilliant 73 netted medalist honors in the qualifying rounds Tuesday, was matched in the first pair on the tee off schedule with Gibson Dunlap, Chicago, who wrote his name in the championship fight with a 40-38-75 for twenties place. Thirteen aspirants from half a dozen midwestern states and 18 Chicagoans all of whom did 80 or better on the par 72 course Tuesday were paired to follow the Tverna-Dunlap match at five minute intervals.

Atlanta—(P)—Tiger Flowers, Georgia Negro world's middleweight boxing champion, awarded a decision on a foul from Battling McCreary, Boston Negro (2)

NEW PUBLIC LINKS CHAMP

Meet the new national public gold links champion, Lester Bolstad of Minneapolis. Bolstad, who is 18, came into the honor by whipping Karl Kaufmann, Pittsburg, in the finals of the tournament at Buffalo, 3 and 2. Bolstad played sensational golf throughout the get-together. Bolstad is shown with his latest trophy.

New Yorker Takes His Ball Just Like Blankville Fans

New York—(P)—New York takes its baseball just like Blankville, Missouri, only in larger doses and, perhaps, a little more seriously.
All the rivalry, emotions, arguments and war whoops found in the country towns are multiplied a thousand or more times in Gotham. Blankville has its baseball heroes. So has New York. Umpires here get as little praise and as much baiting as does the lone Blankville arbiter.

When the Yankees, Giants and Robins are winning, each attracts large crowds. When they are in a slump, each has a congregation of loyal followers that refuses to desert the grand stand and bleachers. The same holds true in Blankville.

New York's baseball crowds, however, are far more cosmopolitan. The Japanese, Chinese, Italians, Germans, Slavs, Frenchmen, Englishmen, South Americans and other foreigners soon become addicts of the national-pastime.

At almost any game, one can look over rows and rows of faces without seeing a native American. Of all the fans, the Japanese and Chinese are less given to manifestations. They smile and talk over the plays between themselves.

The negroes probably are the most enthusiastic and loudest in their cheers.

OSHKOSH MEETS K-C IN LAST GAME SUNDAY
Kimberly—Oshkosh will be at Kimberly Sunday for the last appearance of the year on the local diamond when the teams meet for the last time this year. Neeah and Appleton have scored wins over the Noelmens in the last two out of three games, while the Oshkosh crew have played while Kimberly lost last Saturday. Oshkosh, however, scored only one earned run off from Vanderloop, the Kimberly pitcher, who let the league leaders down with six hits. Errors behind his pitching were responsible for the other three runs scored. For Kimberly the battery will be composed of Vanderloop and Harties. Schell will be on first base, Haugen on second, Thien on third with Cliff Courtney playing at short. The outfield will be composed of Verbaten in right field, Cooke in center and Len Smith in left field. With the tight kind of support Kimberly should be able to give the league leaders plenty of trouble, and providing the team has an "on" day, another loss is in store for the Oshkosh aggregation. Geitzen, the Sawdust city speed artist, is scheduled to hurl his fourth game against Kimberly, and providing the locals have their hitting toes on he is scheduled to run into difficulties.

BURNS ALMOST SURE TO HANG UP RECORD
George Burns of Cleveland appears certain of hanging up a new major league mark for two-base blows. In the first 103 games Burns poked out 12 doubles. At that time he was but seven behind the record made by Tris Speaker in 1923.

Glace Bay, N. S.—Steve McDonald, Boston, knocked out Ted Mitchell, substituting for Bert Brown, Montreal (4).

GOLFERS BATTLE FOR TROPHY AT RIVERVIEW CLUB

Jack Stevens Medalist in Qualifying Round With 78; Three Classes of 8

Eight golfers of Riverview Country club will start play for the 1926 President's cup Wednesday, and sixteen others will play for lesser trophies in two other flights as the result of the qualifying round of medal play for the cup played Saturday at the club links. The eight low men qualified for further play for the trophy, the next eight will play in Class B and the third eight of the low twenty-four in Class C. Play in all three classes will be match play. Pairings for the match play was completed in the classes Tuesday.

Qualifiers for the major trophy were Jack Stevens, W. R. Rounds, Jack Powell, F. E. Holbrook, Frank Young, R. E. Thickens, D. K. Brown and P. R. McCaul. Stevens lead the field with the medal score of 78 for 15 holes, shooting fine golf the entire way. In Class B qualifiers were R. A. Peterson, Joseph Marston, Robert Warren, J. R. Haney, R. S. Powell, R. K. Wolter, W. R. Wheaton and Roy Marston. In Class C Ed-win Lachman, J. F. King, Ernst Mahler, Dr. E. H. Brooks, Ray Kelley, A. C. Gilbert, Harry Price and Dr. L. H. Moore made the grade.

Pairings for the first round of match play follow:
Class A—Stevens vs Rounds; Jack Powell vs Holbrook; Young vs Thickens; Brown vs McCaul. Class B—Peterson vs Joseph Marston; Warren vs Haney; R. S. Powell vs Wolter; Wheaton vs Roy Marston. Class C—Lachman vs King; Mahler vs Brooks; Kelly vs Gilbert Price vs Moore.

BROWNS TURN IN 23 ASSISTS WITH YANKS

St. Louis—George Suter and some of his Brownies had an unusually busy day in the field with the Yankees. The Browns turned in 23 assists.

BREWS TAKE ANOTHER TROUNCING FROM KERS

Milwaukee—The Brewers took another kick in the vicinity of the hip-pocket and now they are looking backward instead of forward. They expect the Indians to run over them at any moment. The champion Colonels had their usual charm over the Near Beers, working in tip-top shape Tuesday, and the result was an inglorious 8-0 whitewash.

TWO MORE SWIMMERS WHIPPED BY CHANNEL

Cape Gris Nez—(P)—The turbulent English channel again has turned back two persons who aspired to swim it. They are Mme. Jane Sion, a French woman, and Omer Perrault, a Canadian.
Starting from Cape Gris Nez at 10:05 o'clock Tuesday night they swam until 4 o'clock Wednesday morning when the heavy seas and rain squalls compelled them to abandon their attempt to get across to Dover.
Miss Clare Belle Barrett of New Rochelle plans to start on her second attempt Sunday and Miss Lillian Cannon of Baltimore Monday. Miss Cannon claims she is in fit condition to beat Gertrude Ederle's record time of 14 hours 31 minutes.
Isiah Helmy, Egyptian and George Michel of France, who made unsuccessful attempts to conquer the channel Monday night said Wednesday that reports of an encounter with sharks were erroneous. Dog fish were their fellow voyagers, they said. No sharks have been reported in the channel this season.

during the fray which went 11 innings. The infielders, Sisler, Melillo, Gerber and McManus accounted for 15. Three hurlers, Ballou, Gard and Wingard had a combined total of six with Wally Schang, catcher getting the remaining two.

On the other hand, it was a fairly soft afternoon for the outfielders. Rice, Williams and Miller had but eight chances among them, all flies.

St. Paul City—Earl McArthur, Sioux City bantamweight, beat Benny Ray, St. Paul (10.)

GREB FAVORED TO BEAT NEGRO STAR

Harry Expected to Uncover "Glass" Chin of Flowers, Man Who Took His Title

Los Angeles—After Tiger Flowers, present middleweight king of the pugilistic world, has traded punches with Harry Greb at Madison Square Garden, New York City, Aug. 13, he is very apt to have considerably more time to devote to his duties as desecration of his Atlanta, Ga., church.

Little is known about Greb's present condition. But if he is back in the trim he was six months ago, Flowers will count stars and listen to the birdies just as sure as Helen Willis is America's tennis queen.

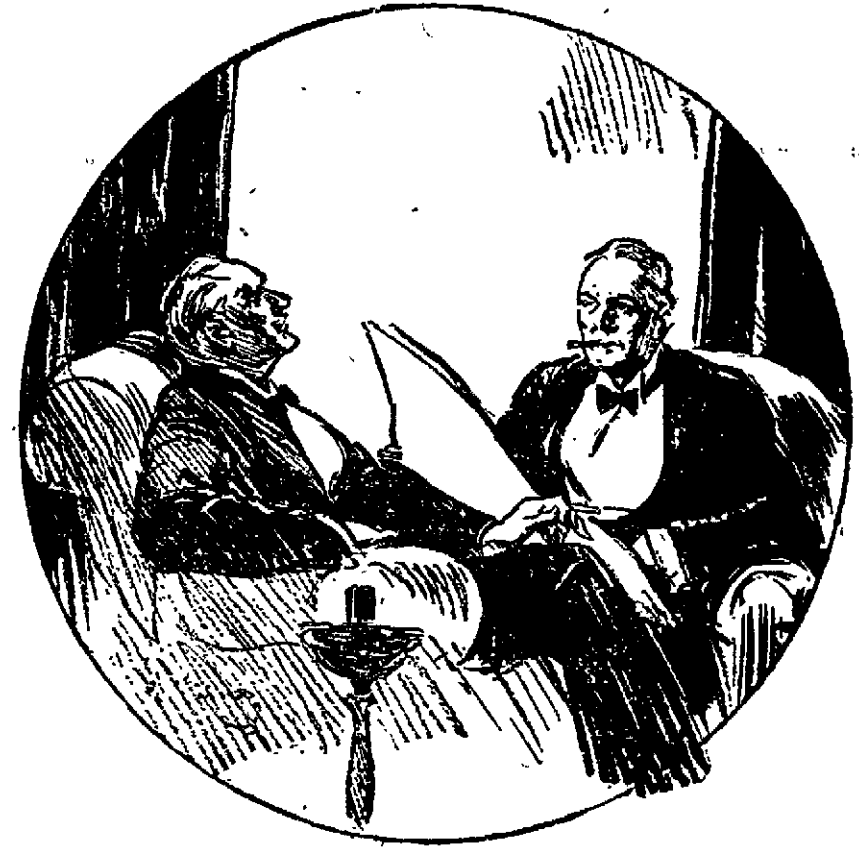

Flowers is smart—probably smarter than Greb. His recent 10-round go with Sailor Eddie Huffman here was sufficient to convince one of his boxing prowess. But the Georgian simply can not take them on his "glass" chin. Huffman showed that and few additional proof Flowers has been the victim of eight knockouts. That's the reason his reign is doomed the first time he meets Greb or any other good fighter.

Greb's "windmill" style of throwing the leathers should sing a lullaby if he has his old steam behind them. When Harry hits he hits hard and with so many gloves flying, some are bound to reach their mark. There are rumors that Harry didn't train at all for his meeting with Flowers. If that is true and he is again doing his usual amount of working out—which at the most has always been very little—he should accomplish the unusual, beating the man who robbed him of his crown.

BRAVES FIND CARDS TOUGHEST TO DEFEAT

Dave Bancroft's Boston Braves have found the Cardinals toughest to beat this season. In their first 12 clashes, the Beantown boys won but twice. On the other hand, the Braves whipped the Reds nine times in 15 tussles. The Phils have found the Braves easiest picking, winning 11 of 16 brushes.

Extra Pleasure from an Extra Process

Even without the toasting process, LUCKY STRIKES would rank as very fine cigarettes.

It would be a fine cigarette because it is made of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, perfectly aged and blended.

But the costly extra process of toasting lifts LUCKY STRIKES out of the ordinary, gives LUCKY STRIKES three distinctive features.

BECAUSE IT'S TOASTED
That's Why Luckies Taste So Good

YANKS HAVE LOOP FLAG ABOUT WON

Need Only 50-50 Ball to Keep Indians Behind; Giants Crowd Cubs from 4th

Fifteen games in the west, widely regarded as a crucial test, have left the New York Yankees well ahead of the field in the American league.

Ten victories against five defeats, .667 baseball where .500 undoubtedly would have been acceptable, show on the Huggins record for the invasion and only one more foreign tour stands between the present leaders and another pennant.

Where a month ago Cleveland had to play .500 baseball to tie the Yanks playing .557, the westerners percentage for the remainder of the season must be .750. In other words if the Yankees win 22 and lose the same number the Indians must register 30 conquests against 11 losses to tie.

Tuesday Detroit took another shot at the leaders and won an abbreviated game, 5 to 3, with a three run rally. Ty Cobb, batting for C. R. Smith, singled, singled, singled, the winning score. The game was called at the end of the inning to permit the Yankees to catch a train for Washington where a doubleheader was scheduled Wednesday.

Meanwhile Cleveland fell before the excellent pitching of Dutch Ruether, of Washington, 4 to 1. The veteran left hander granted only six hits, one a double by Speaker.

Ken Williams' sixteenth home run of the year gave St. Louis a victory over the Red Sox, 6 to 4.

The Athletics downed the White Sox 4 to 3 after 11 innings. Morehart's fumble of Grabowski's throw in the final frame to catch Hale stealing was followed by a Cochrane single which settled the issue.

A shifted infield failed to hamper the New York Giants in the National league and Tuesday they are secure in fourth position as a result of the victory over the Chicago Cubs, 2 to 0.

Freddie Lindstrom, their third baseman, has been called to Chicago by the death of his father and Frank Frisch is at third base. Frisch's home run in the sixth Tuesday won the game.

Brooklyn succumbed to the Pirates 10 to 2 in the ninth straight defeat for the Dodgers. Thirteen hits by Eutaw,burgh and eight errors by Brooklyn tell the story of the contest.

Boston bowed to the St. Louis Cardinals, 3 to 1, when four straight hits in the ninth accounted for two runs. Philadelphia topped Cincinnati, 10 to 8, by counting 11 hits off Donohue, Luque and Lucas. Curtis Walker of the Reds hit a home run in the fifth with two on base.

EADS MEETS ROGERS IN 1ST ROUND OF NET MEET

One change has been made in the pairings for the first round of the Y. M. C. A. tennis championship tournament, which started this week, according to A. P. Jensen, physical director of the association. Clem Lacke, who was scheduled to oppose Professor W. E. Rogers in a first-round match, is out of the city until Thursday.

So Harold Eads, who drew a bye, will meet Rogers in the opening round so as not to delay the meet, and Lacke will take his bye, playing his second round match next week.

ACES TROUNCE CUBS IN BALL GAME, 18-4

Appleton Aces trounced the Appleton Cubs royally Sunday afternoon, copping the tilt by a 18-4 margin. Kranzuch, winning hurler, fanned 14 men while Laabs for the Cubs got only 6. The Aces smacked out 21 safe bingles of which 15 were extra base hits. Herb Reider and Starke were the batting stars with a double and a homer apiece, while Hillman aided with a double, Schuster with a three-sacker and Kranzuch with a four-ply swat. The Cubs got seven safe bingles, a two-sacker by Laab being the only extra base swat.

Sunday the Aces will clash with the strong Coated Paper Co. team in an old rival. In a previous game the Aces won a slugfest, 14-8.

THESE TWO CLUBS KNOW WHERE THEY'LL FINISH

Two clubs, Reading in the International League and Columbus in the American Association, know just where they'll stand at the close of the season. Each is in the cellar, Reading being about 15 games out of seventh and Columbus about 17.

MISS DAY RETURNS TO LOCAL LIBRARY

Miss Florence Day, librarian of the Appleton library, returned last week from a six weeks vacation and resumed her duties at the library Monday. Miss Day attended a six weeks course at the University of Wisconsin summer school.

HEINEMANN CALLS CALUMET-CO JUDGE

Judge H. F. Arps of Calumet-co court, Chilton, occupied the Outagamie county bench Wednesday morning in the hearing of the petition for the appointment of a guardian for Annie Glasnap. He was called in by Judge Fred Heinemann, as the latter was formerly an attorney in the case.

TRY TO CLEAR WAY FOR DEMPSEY-TUNNEY BOUT

New York—(AP)—Taking the initiative in an effort to clear away remaining obstacles in the way of holding the Dempsey Tunney heavyweight title fight at the Yankee stadium Sept. 16, Boxing Commissioner George E. Brower Wednesday called a special session of the State Athletic commission for Thursday morning to which he also invited the members of the license committee.

2 BELOIT GIRLS ARE DISORDERLY

Judge Berg Fines Both and Orders Them to Return to Parents

Pleading guilty to charges of disorderly conduct before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court, two Beloit girls, 18 and 20 years old, in company with Irving Bellinger, route 5, Appleton, and Norbert Stammer, 721 N. Meade-st, paid fines of $10 each. Court costs were paid by Bellinger and Stammer. The girls were ordered to return to their parents in Beloit.

The four were arrested by Detective Sergeant John Duvall. It was charged that the girls met Stammer and Bellinger, who are members of a dance hall orchestra, after the latter had finished their work, and that the four conducted themselves in a disorderly manner.

Police investigation proved that the girls informed their parents in Beloit that they had obtained work in Green Bay and Appleton, respectively. According to their own admissions, these statements were false, as neither was employed. The complaint alleged that the offenses had been committed Aug. 6 and Aug. 7.

DEATHS

WILLIAM FOCKEL
William Fockel, 74, Seymour, died suddenly at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning from heart disease as he was driving a team of horses along the road near the home of his son, Edward, about five miles north of Seymour. William Heim, a neighbor, was with Mr. Fockel at the time.

He was born in Canada, July 22, 1852, and came with his parents to Appleton, Wisconsin, in 1871. Later, from New London his parents moved to Stephentown and after a few years settled on the farm which the son Edward now owns. He was married in 1880 to Miss Minnie Kline, who died about three years ago.

Survivors are seven children, Mrs. Richard Beck, Mrs. Emory Gardner, Mrs. Sam Hesse, Mrs. Otto Abel and Edward Fockel of Seymour; Mrs. Albert Dettman of Brantford; Mrs. Edward Hesse of Appleton; one brother, Charles Fockel, of Oshkosh; three sisters, Mrs. William Hintz of Binghamton, Mrs. William Seibert of Oshkosh and Mrs. Gus Brager, and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the home of the son, Edward, with the Rev. Carl L. Duff, pastor of the Evangelical church at Seymour, in charge. Interment will be made at North Seymour cemetery.

JOSEPH TENNIE
Joseph Tennie, Sr., 82, 212 N. Story-st, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. He was born Feb. 6, 1844, at Ludger, Westphalia, Germany. In 1871, he came to America, spending the first two or three years in Appleton, after which he moved to a farm in the town of Greenville. Seven years ago he retired and again moved to this city.

Mr. Tennie is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma Tennie; eight children, Sister M. Emmelinda, Milwaukee; Mrs. Frank Nussbaum and Mrs. Martin Hahn of Center, Ohio; and George Tennie of Greenville; John Tennie, Elington; and Mrs. Henry Viotto of Appleton; and Mrs. Frances Kappe in Germany, and 27 grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning at St. Joseph church, and burial will be in St. Joseph cemetery.

LITTLE CHUTE BUYS $5,000 FIRE TRUCK

The bid of the W. S. Nott company of Minneapolis of $5000 on a new fire truck was accepted by village board of Little Chute at its meeting Tuesday night. The Nott bid was one of six submitted.

The truck will be shipped to Little Chute in about two weeks, and will come fully equipped with a 40 gallon chemical tank, a mixing and refill tank, ladders and other paraphernalia. The machine has a 450 gallon Northern pump, and a Continental motor. Purchase of a new truck has been delayed by the board over a period of three months, negotiations for a machine having opened in May.

GOLF CHAMP ARRESTED FOR "POOR DRIVING"

Milwaukee—(AP)—Reginald Scully, Milwaukee, county golf champion, slipped out of bounds Sunday night and as a result is held by the Wauwatosa police charged with disorderly conduct and resisting an officer.

Scully was arrested after a fight with a motorcycle patrolman who attempted to stop a car which was zig-zagging up a street. The driver of the car, Jerome Crossette, and Frank Gralski are also held on a like charge.

DAVIDSON BACK AS POOL LEADER

President of Tobacco Group Re-elected After Rival Wins District Voters

Madison—(AP)—Jens Davidson, of Westby, president of the Northern Wisconsin Cooperative Tobacco pool, was unanimously re-elected to membership on the board of directors over Selmer Neprud, of Westby, at the state meeting here Tuesday.

In the district election several days ago Mr. Neprud defeated President Davidson.

Mr. Davidson was returned to his seat following passage of a resolution in which the delegates refuted slams concerning the pool, circulated by Mr. Neprud in a letter. The vote was 88 to 9 on the resolution. The decision of President Davidson brought to a close one of the most vigorous contests in the pool's history.

All other delegates nominated in the district election were elected. Two changes made this year include the replacing of John Ellikson by Otto Onstad in the fourth district, and John Danielson by M. T. Jensen in the sixteenth.

BOARD DETERMINES BENEFITS, DAMAGES

Assessments of benefits and damages for sewers on Appleton streets were accepted by the board of public works Tuesday morning at the city hall, and objects of property owners to assessments made against their property for clandering and laying water mains and sewers on 12 streets were heard. Only one objection was registered, that being of a property owner on E. Wisconsin-ave, where the city and county meet, causing payment to both parties by the owner.

Streets on which benefits and damages of sewers were determined were German-ave; N. Rankin-st from Wisconsin-ave to E. Commercial-st; N. Appleton-st from W. Atlantic to W. Hancock-st; Harrison-st from Brewster-st to Parkway-blvd; Summit-st, from Eighth to Lawrence-st; W. Winnebago-st from Mason-st east; N. Morrison from Parkway-blvd to city limits; Cedar and Outagamie-sts; N. Outagamie-st from Washington-st 167 feet south; S. Monroest, from E. Kinley-st 100 feet north; E. Wisconsin-ave from Leninwah-st, 1,042 feet west.

Markets

STOCK UNSTEADY ON WALL STREET

Tighter Credit Situation Causes Speculative Uneasiness on Market

shown by Mack Trucks which reached a new high on the current movement, while Hudson and other representative motor shares also developed a steadier tone. Trading however, was quiet in contrast with recent sessions and prices fluctuated within a rather narrow range.

The big short interest which had been created in Tuesday's selling movement scrambled to cover Wednesday morning when buying orders began to flood the market for all classes of stocks. Little difficulty was experienced in boosting the prices of many shares from four to six points, including General Motors, Dupont, Loos, Wiles, Biscuit, Case Threshing Machine, United States Cast Iron Pipe, United States Industrial Alcohol and American Agricultural Chemical preferred. The renewal rate on call loans was raised to 4 1/2 per cent.

The closing was heavy. Total shares approximated 1,800,000 shares. Case Threshing Machine, Allied Chemical, American safety Razor and other popular specialties were in demand. Rail shares were sluggish despite expectations of further expansion in traffic and favorable reports for July. Foreign exchange were slightly easier, with French and Belgian francs selling around 2 1/2 cents. Demand sterling was steady.

CITY OFFICIALS GET PAID FROM $10 TO $9,500

Chief Executives in Wisconsin Towns Receive Varying Amounts

Madison—(AP)—City officials in Wisconsin receive annual salaries ranging from $5,000 to $10, with chief executives of some municipalities serving without pay, the municipal information bureau of the University of Wisconsin reports.

Kenosha's city manager receives the largest amount, while the councilmen of Seymour are paid the bottom figure for their labors, the reports from 143 cities reveal.

The other city managers in the state are paid as follows: Janesville, $7,200; Rhinelander and Two Rivers, $5,000. Milwaukee's mayor receives $6,800 a year, the highest salary of any mayor. The mayor of Superior is paid $5,000, those in other cities receiving less. Oshkosh and Green Bay pay their mayors $4,000; West Allis, $3,600, and Eau Claire and Fond du Lac, $3,500. Other cities paying $1,000 or more annually are La Crosse and Wausau, $2,400; Cudahy, $2,100; Madison, $2,000; Antigo and Appleton, $1,800; Chippewa Falls, Racine, $1,500; Stevens Point, Menominee, Marinette, $1,200; Beaver Dam, Beloit, Port Washington and Wauwatosa, $1,000.

Of the remaining 117 cities, 89 pay their chief executives a stipulated annual salary, ranging from $24 to $800. Salary is paid on a per meeting basis, in sums varying from $1 to $10, in 13 cities and 15 cities report no salaries for their mayors.

Smiths And Millers Are Most Numerous In City

Smith is the commonest name in the United States, according to census reports, there being 1,304,000 people with that name in this country. However, an examination of the Appleton city directory shows that the name Miller is just as prominent here as Smith, although there are only 625,300 Millers in the United States.

TEACHERS WILL STUDY METHODS

County Supervising Teachers to Hold Annual Meeting at Milwaukee

Milwaukee—(AP)—Improvement of teaching methods, especially in classroom work, will be one of the topics for treatment at the annual meeting of the County Supervising Teachers of the state here, Aug. 30 to Sept. 2.

About 90 or 100 teachers are expected to attend the sessions which will be addressed by men and women prominent in educational and business fields in Wisconsin.

The meeting will be opened Monday morning with an address by John Callahan, superintendent of the state department of public instruction. He will be followed by John D. Jones, state commissioner of agriculture, who will speak on the Wisconsin state fair. C. A. Johnson, president of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association, will speak also.

"Teachers Activities" will be the subject of an opening talk Tuesday by C. J. Anderson of the University of Wisconsin. J. T. Giles, state supervisor of high schools will talk on "Some Problems in Improving Teaching." An address will be given by Dr. A. V. de Neveu, of the state board of health.

Wednesday morning Governor Blaine will address the meeting and will be followed by R. L. Cooley, director of the Milwaukee vocational school. State Treasurer Solomon Levitan is also on the program.

W. W. Thelen, assistant city superintendent of schools in Milwaukee will open the Thursday session with an address on "Ways of Improving Classroom Procedure." Della E. Kibbe, of the state department of public instruction will follow with a talk on "Individual Plans." A business meeting will be held on Friday.

Afternoon programs will consist mainly of optional excursions to a manufacturing plant, the Layton Art Gallery, Milwaukee Public Museum, and Washington Park and Zoo.

U. S. WON'T GET INTO COURT, IS WASHINGTON IDEA

Many Senate Qualifications Make Acceptance by Powers Doubtful

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—Official Washington, generally speaking, thinks the chances are about two to one that the United States will not, after all get into the World Court.

Theoretically this country's application for membership is on file, but it is an application which the Senate qualified with so many reservations, before endorsing it, that its acceptance by the powers already in the Court is considered much more than doubtful. Of course, this is not a thing for an officeholder under the Coolidge administration—World Court membership being one of the latter's most essential policies—to say out loud.

Nevertheless, it is an opinion which, confidentially, is widely expressed.

More than that, one frequently hears the surmise that the administration itself hopes now that American admission to the Court, on the Senate's terms, will be refused.

Membership, on a basis which permits the United States to disregard practically any of the tribunal's findings, if unsatisfactory in Washington, would mean very little, at least.

Besides, it is taken for granted in most quarters that the administration sees, by this time, that opposition to America entering the World Court is quite strong. If we are admitted, it may make bad work at the polls in 1928. If we are turned down, there is the chance that the issue will be forgotten, to some extent, in the next two years.

That presidential advocacy of American adherence to the world tribunal was no mere gesture, however, is an undoubted fact.

The president really wanted the country to join, and if he could force it to do so, with none of the Senate's strings on its membership, he probably would do so yet, even at the risk of arousing antagonism among those who would regard it as a "European entanglement."

Following the Senate's action on the World Court protocol, the State Department sent notes to each of the 46 signatory countries enclosing certified copies of the Senate resolutions and reservations. Greece, Cuba and Liberia have acquiesced.

Meantime, the secretary general of the League of Nations proposed that the United States send a delegation to Geneva to discuss the Senate reservations with the signatories at a meeting beginning Sept. 1. The State Department replied through the Bernese legation that the Senate reservations are "plain and unequivocal," so the department could see no advantage in discussing them through the delegation, which could not vary the Senate's terms anyway, until such terms acceptance by the signatories.

The matter rests there without further proceedings pending except that subsequent communications, if any, will be handled through the Bernese Legation and the league secretary.
